Troubadour Resources Appoints Industry Leader James Walker to Advisory Board

Vancouver, British Columbia / October 10, 2024 – Troubadour Resources Inc. ("TR", "Troubadour" or the "Company") (TSXV:TR) (OTC:TROUF) (WKN:A3DBDE) is pleased to announce the appointment of James Walker to its Advisory Board, effective immediately. Mr. Walker is the Chief Executive Officer of NANO Nuclear Energy Inc. ("NANO Nuclear", NASDAQ:NNE), a leading innovator in the clean energy space, with a current market capitalization of over US$500 million.

Mr. Walker brings a wealth of experience to Troubadour, with over 15 years of expertise in engineering project management across diverse sectors including nuclear energy, mining, and construction. He has a proven track record of success in leading and growing companies, particularly in the resource sector. Notably, Mr. Walker played a key role in acquiring and redeveloping the only fluorspar mine in the United States, demonstrating his deep understanding of the complexities and challenges inherent in junior mining operations.

"We are thrilled to welcome James to our Advisory Board," said Chris Huggins, CEO of Troubadour Resources Inc. "His extensive knowledge of the mining industry, coupled with his experience in capital markets and project financing, will be invaluable as we advance our exploration and development projects look to expand our shareholder base in the United States. James's expertise in nuclear energy also provides a unique perspective on the growing need for critical minerals essential to the clean energy transition."

Mr. Walker's leadership at NANO Nuclear, a company focused on providing clean and reliable energy solutions, aligns with Troubadour's commitment to responsible resource development. His access to US capital markets and investor networks is expected to open up significant opportunities for Troubadour as it seeks to expand its operations and attract strategic partnerships.

His role on the Advisory Board will include providing counsel on business strategy, capital markets, and corporate governance. His engagement reflects Troubadour's commitment to building a world-class advisory team to support its growth and development objectives.

"I am excited to join the Advisory Board of Troubadour Resources," commented James Walker. "The Company's portfolio of high-quality mineral projects, combined with its strong management team, positions it for success in a rapidly evolving market. I look forward to contributing my expertise and network to support Troubadour's growth and development."

Forward-looking statements:

This news release may include "forward-looking information" under applicable Canadian securities legislation, including statements respecting: (i) the Company’s exploration methodology; (ii) the Company’s plans for the future (iii) the outlook for the metals business; (iv) the Company’s goal of making Quebec’s next major discovery; and (vi) the Company’s work plans at the Senneville Project, including the timing and scope thereof. Such forward-looking information reflects management's current beliefs and are based on a number of estimates and/or assumptions made by and information currently available to the Company that, while considered reasonable, are subject to known and unknown risks, uncertainties, and other factors that may cause the actual results and future events to differ materially from those expressed or implied by such forward-looking information. Readers are cautioned that such forward-looking information are neither promises nor guarantees and are subject to known and unknown risks and uncertainties including, but not limited to, general business, economic, competitive, political and social uncertainties, uncertain and volatile equity and capital markets, lack of available capital, actual results of exploration activities, environmental risks, future prices of base and other metals, operating risks, accidents, labour issues, delays in obtaining governmental approvals and permits, and other risks in the mining industry.

The Company is presently an exploration stage company. Exploration is highly speculative in nature, involves many risks, requires substantial expenditures, and may not result in the discovery of mineral deposits that can be mined profitably. Furthermore, the Company currently has no reserves on any of its properties. As a result, there can be no assurance that such forward-looking statements will prove to be accurate, and actual results and future events could differ materially from those anticipated in such statements.
