Forty Pillars Mining Corp. Appoints New Director

Vancouver, B.C. – Aug, 1 2025 - Forty Pillars Mining Corp. (CSE: PLLR) (the "Company" or "Forty Pillars") is pleased to announce that Mark Ireton has been appointed as a director of the Company in place of Dorian Banks who has resigned as a director.

Mr. Ireton has 35 years of experience in finance including his time with Royal Bank of Canada and Canadian Western Bank plus U.S. premier banks and leading tier 2 lending institutions. He played a role in lending across both public and private markets, particularly in manufacturing, aviation, reorganizations, and acquisitions—including both leveraged buyouts (LBOs) and management buyouts (MBOs). He currently has nine years of public markets experience with a focus on mining exploration. Mr. Ireton has been director of multiple public companies including President and CEO for Noram Lithium Corp., and Supreme Critical Metals Inc. During his time with Noram, he assisted with the development and advancement of its flagship asset.

The Company would like to thank Mr. Banks for his contributions to the Company and wishes him success in his future endeavors.
