Carrier Connect Data Solutions Announces Ross Video Agreement at PureColo Subsidiary

Vancouver, British Columbia, March 24, 2026 – Carrier Connect Data Solutions Inc. (TSX.V:CCDS; OTCQB:CCDSF; WKN: A40XB1) (the "Company" or "Carrier"), a data center company on a mission to roll up Tier II/III data centers internationally that specialize in delivering co-location, today announced that its subsidiary PureColo has entered into a five-year co-location agreement with Ottawa-based Ross Video at its Ottawa data center locations. Ross Video will be taking 30 Kilowatts across 8 racks starting in April 2026.

Ross Video is a global leader in live video production technology, delivering high-impact solutions for broadcasters, sports venues, entertainment productions, legislatures, and corporate facilities worldwide.

Russell Pearson, Director, IT - Infrastructure & Applications at Ross Video, comments, "I am very pleased to select PureColo for our data center needs. Their Ottawa facilities provide the reliability, scalability, and connectivity required to support our growing infrastructure and ongoing operations."

Mark Binns, Carrier's CEO comments "I am very pleased to welcome Ross Video to PureColo. Our team in Ottawa continues to offer a compelling product in the co-location space attracting high quality customers, driving organic growth on top of our M&A mandate globally."

About Carrier Connect Data Solutions Inc.

Carrier Connect Data Solutions' mission is to roll up Tier II/III data centers internationally that specialize in delivering co-location and data center solutions to AI companies, service providers, enterprises and small businesses. Data centers are the physical locations that store computing machines and their related hardware equipment, such as servers, data storage drives, and network equipment. As a carrier-neutral organization, Carrier's systems are fully independent and owned outright within its leased space. The current principal markets for the Company are Vancouver, Ottawa and Saint John, Canada and Perth, Australia, where it serves clients who use its facilities either as their primary datacenter or as an ancillary site depending on their needs.
