"Our performance in 2025 reflects Sucro's integrated model, leveraging its capabilities throughout the supply chain. We increased volumes significantly across our network, particularly through wholesale trading and origin flows, and continued to optimize our integrated platform balancing refining, trading, and logistics to capture opportunities wherever they emerged" said Jonathan Taylor, Founder and Chief Executive Officer of Sucro. "Operationally, we also made substantial progress, including reduced SG&A and interest expense despite higher activity levels; improved working capital efficiency and reduced balance sheet intensity; and we continued to execute on two major refinery builds."

Taylor added, "We are incredibly proud of starting up both of our new refineries on the original projected time lines. The Hamilton refinery opened at the end of 2025, and the University Park refinery initiated its first sugar production a few weeks ago. These new assets will enable significant growth in refined sugar production across North America in the coming years."

Results from Operations – Three Months Ended December 31, 2025

Customer sugar deliveries increased by 47.0% from 154,773 MT for the quarter ended December 31, 2024, to 227,447 MT for the corresponding 2025 period, driven by wholesale volumes of both conventional and organic sugar in the U.S. and Canada, conventional sugar deliveries in the Caribbean market, and bulk raw sugar sales at origin.

While volumes increased significantly, margins, especially in our U.S. wholesale operations, continued to compress, reflective of market conditions. Adjusted Gross Profit decreased to $9.1 million for the quarter ended December 31, 2025, from $11.9 million for the corresponding 2024 period. This decrease was driven by lower margins in our Mexican operation (reflective of the market-driven nature of our wholesale business in this geography) and our refining operation in Hamilton, Ontario during the last quarter of 2025, where we used higher priced raw sugar acquired during prior periods to fulfill lower priced contracts priced to reflect lower world market sugar prices prevalent at the time.

Adjusted EBITDA was $3.4 million for the quarter ended December 31, 2025, compared with $6.6 million for the corresponding 2024 period, a 48.0% decrease, mainly driven by a decrease in Adjusted Gross Profit for the quarter. EBITDA was $11.3 million for the quarter ended December 31, 2025, compared with $0.9 million for the corresponding period in fiscal 2024, driven primarily by higher unrealized mark-to-market gains on commodity forward contracts. This difference was due to both the growth of forward contract volumes and booked margins in the last quarter of 2025 (for deliveries in 2026 and 2027) and the absence in 2025 of a mark-to-market loss on inventory values that occurred in the last quarter of 2024.

Refined sugar deliveries from our own refineries were essentially unchanged at 44,561 MT in the three months ended December 31, 2025, from 44,534 MT in the corresponding 2024 period. Adjusted gross profit margins per metric ton on these volumes decreased by 11.4% from $140.56 per MT in the three months ended December 31, 2024, to $124.55 per MT in the corresponding 2025 period. While volumes held constant, margins, especially in our U.S. wholesale operations, continued to compress, reflective of market conditions.

Results from Operations – Twelve Months Ended December 31, 2025

For the year ended December 31, 2025, customer deliveries increased by 29.0%, from 649,747 MT in 2024 to 838,607 MT in 2025, primarily due to greater wholesale volumes of conventional sugar in the U.S., as well as by higher bulk raw sugar sales at origin

Adjusted Gross Profit and Adjusted Gross Profit Margin was $49.5 million and 7.4%, respectively, for the twelve months ended December 31, 2025, compared with $56.6 million and 8.6% for the corresponding 2024 period. With refinery operations relatively stable year-over-year, the decrease in Adjusted Gross Profit was driven by lower wholesale organic sugar deliveries in the U.S., due to the absence of large bulk sales during the year (a trend that we expect will be reversed in 2026), and a decrease in volumes and margins in our operation in Mexico, reflective of the market-driven nature of our wholesale business in this geography. Likewise, the reduction in Adjusted Gross Profit Margin in 2025 was due to tariffs imposed on U.S. sugar imports not being fully recovered in sugar prices, as well as higher factory overhead and depreciation expense.

Adjusted EBITDA was $30.9 million for the year ended December 31, 2025, compared with $34.1 million for 2024, a 9.4% decrease, mainly because of lower average prices and conventional sugar margins in the U.S. (reflective of market conditions driven by excess supply), and a volatile U.S. tariff environment where Sucro paid out approximately $8.9 million in tariffs, not fully recovered through price increases.

EBITDA was $64.9 million for the twelve months ended December 31, 2025, compared with $61.7 million for the corresponding 2024 period, a 5.1% increase. Likewise, net income for the twelve months ended December 31, 2025, amounted to $41.0 million, an increase of $16.8 million, or 69.3%, when compared to net income of $24.2 million for the twelve months ended December 31, 2024. These increases were driven primarily by lower deferred income tax expense and higher unrealized mark-to-market gains on commodity forward contracts and inventories.
