COMMENTARY

Emerging markets continued their recovery and recorded strong gains in June supported in part by continued weakness in the US dollar. After a year of rising tensions, Israel and Iran entered into open conflict on 13 June. A US-brokered ceasefire appears to have temporarily de-escalated the situation, though it remains to be seen whether it will hold. In Korea, the outcome of the 3 June elections brought political stability and boosted stock performance as the newly elected government aims to pursue a broad agenda of market-friendly reforms.

Over the period, the Mobius Investment Trust's (MMIT) net asset value per share (NAV) and share price returned +7.2% and +5.8% respectively, while the MSCI EM Mid Cap Index Net TR (GBP) returned +4.7%. MMIT's performance continued its recovery through June, building on the positive momentum from May. Supported by improving visibility for the remainder of the year and a series of strong Q1 results that exceeded expectations, we believe there remains good potential for further recovery, despite ongoing volatility and near-term challenges.

The main contributors to performance were Taiwanese equipment manufacturer Chroma (+1.7%), Korean semiconductor testing developer LEENO Industrial (+1.4%), and Korean atomic force microscopy provider Park Systems (+1.2%). The main detractors to performance were Chinese online travel agency Trip.com (-0.6%), Indian software-defined vehicle developer KPIT (-0.4%), and India steel tubing producer APL Apollo (-0.3%).

Opportunities

- + Focus on dynamic small and mid-sized companies in many of the fastest growing economies in the world
- + Fundamental bottom-up research process identifies resilient business models which are undervalued and mispriced
- + Lower ESG standards in emerging and frontier markets offer a unique opportunity for active engagement approach
- + Create value by delivering a clear ESG pathway for our portfolio companies
- + Concentrated portfolio allows a customised engagement strategy for each company

Risks

- MMIT pursues an active management style. Its performance may therefore deviate considerably from that of a comparable market return
- Pronounced fluctuations in price are characteristic of emerging and frontier economies. Other characteristics include specific risks such as lower market transparency, regulatory hurdles, illiquidity of markets as well as political and social challenges
- Investments via Shanghai or Shenzhen Stock Connect are subject to additional risks, quota limitations, custody risk, clearing/settlement risk and counterparty risk
- Focusing intentionally on stocks in small and medium cap companies may entail additional risks (e.g. lower liquidity)
