VOLUNTARY ANNOUNCEMENT
BUSINESS UPDATE

This announcement is made by Beijing Geekplus Technology Co., Ltd. (the "Company" and, together with its subsidiaries, the "Group") on a voluntary basis to inform the shareholders of the Company and potential investors of the latest business development of the Group.

To address the recent update to the Covered List published by the Federal Communications Commission ("FCC") on 28 July 2026 prohibiting the import, marketing or sale of foreign-produced advanced robotic devices and connected power inverters in the United States (the "Prohibitions"), the Board hereby announces that all Autonomous Mobile Robot (AMR) models currently sold by the Group in the United States have obtained valid FCC certifications and therefore are not subject to the Prohibitions. Sales, product delivery, and business operations of the Group in the United States remain fully operational and completely unaffected. The Prohibition will not have any material adverse impact on the business, operation or financial conditions of the Group.

The Company continues to implement its long-term strategy of regionalizing its manufacturing, supply chains, research development and product testing. The Board is pleased to announce that the Company's new manufacturing facility in the United States will commence operation in due course. The Company will ensure our future new products will continuously comply with the United States regulatory standards, thereby securing long-term market access and business continuity, and demonstrating a firm commitment to serving global customers.

Shareholders and potential investors of the Company are advised to exercise caution when dealing in the securities of the Company.

By Order of the Board
Beijing Geekplus Technology Co., Ltd.
