Sudarshan Chakra Corps engineers lay Bailey bridge in record six days

OUR STAFF REPORTER
 citybhopal@fpj.co.in

Army engineers of Sudarshan Chakra Corps of Southern Command completed construction of Bailey Bridge on Sukhawa River in record six days and handed it over to Narmadapuram district administration on Wednesday, officials said.

The construction of bridge started on August 26. It was opened to traffic on Wednesday. This is the first time in state that Indian army has made a bridge of such a specification, which is an achievement in itself.

Bridge was handed over to district administration by GOC, PMP Sub Area, in presence of MLA Presh Shankar Verma, collector Neeraj Kumar, SDM Madan

Raghuvanshi, NHAI project director RK Gupta, NHAI manager (tech) Akhil Soni and others.

The completion of bridge is a perfect example of seamless and synergised civil military response to national emergencies, an official release stated. Construction of Bailey bridge has ensured day and night connectivity and restoration of vital economic activity along Nagpur-Bhopal stretch on NH 46 in Madhya Pradesh. It has brought succour to people of Narmadapuram district whose daily life was affected as they were cut off due to heavy monsoon. The Bailey Bridge is 3.5-metre wide and 50-foot long. Single Lane Bailey Bridge, which is capable of sustaining heavy traffic.

The construction of bridge posed challenges including adverse weather conditions, time limit and bridge site. NHAI and district administration provided support during planning and construction phase.

Genda Bai's diamond lucky second time

IN HOPE OF FINDING ANOTHER DIAMOND, TRIBAL WOMAN TAKES A PIT ON PATTA

RAJAN RAKWAR
 citybhopal@fpj.co.in

After finding a diamond while picking up firewood in the jungle some time back, tribal woman Genda Bai has taken another pit hoping that luck may smile on her for the second time.

The tribal woman from Panshotapur village in Panna district had earlier found a diamond while picking firewood from the jungle. The diamond woman found earlier is likely to be put up for auction in the last week of September. Speaking to "Free Press", Genda Bai's son Rajesh Advait said that a few days handling over the diamond to the government office for auction, her mother had applied for a "patta" of a pit where the government allowed to dig in hope of finding another precious stone. This pit has been taken in "Patta" area situated near Krishna Kalyanpur village in Panna. He informed that his mother has developed a leg-sprain, hence only a few times she went to the pit to carry out digging. Mostly it is he and other family members who do the digging. The family is anxiously waiting for the day when the diamond her mother found goes for auction. The officials have said that the diamond will be auctioned before "Diwali".

When contacted, Mining Officer Ravi Patel told Free Press that Genda Bai's diamond will go for auction in the last week of September. It is learnt that in auctioning of diamonds, traders and big businessmen from cities such as Surat, Mumbai, Delhi, Bhopal etc will turn up to place their bid.
