A two-member Audit Committee has been formed by the Board of Directors of Migros. Under article 4.5.3 of the CMB's "Communique concerning corporate governance principles (II-17.1)", all of the members of the Audit Committee must be selected from among the Company's independent board members. In 2016 no company shareholder with a controlling stake, nor any board member, nor any manager with administrative responsibilities nor any spouse or relative (whether by blood or marriage unto the second degree) of any of these has engaged in any transaction with the Company or with any of its subsidiaries or affiliates that might be deemed to involve a conflict of interest; nor did any of them perform, on their own behalf or on behalf of another, any transaction of a business nature falling within the Company's own or its subsidiaries' or affiliates' object and scope; nor did they act as a partner with unlimited liability in another company engaged in the same kind of business.

2.4 Voting Rights and Minority Rights

As is stipulated in Migros' articles of association, there are no special voting rights at the Company. All votes are of equal weight. Every shareholder at a general assembly meeting is entitled to cast as many votes as the number of shares that they hold. There are no shareholders with cross-shareholding interests. The articles of association provide for no special privileges and/or similar rights with respect to representation on the Board of Directors. Four of the twelve members of the Board of Directors are independent members.

The Company avoids engaging in any and all manner of practices that might obstruct the exercise of shareholders' voting rights.

Those who are entitled to cast votes at general assembly meetings may exercise those rights personally and they may also designate a proxy, who may or may not be a shareholder themselves, to do so on their behalf. A specimen of the proxy statement for shareholders not personally attending a meeting is posted at the Company's headquarters, on its corporate website (www.migroskurumsal.com), and at the CRA's e-GEM portal and is also published in the Türkiye Ticaret Sicili Gazetesi along with the general assembly meeting summons.

Voting on agenda items at general assembly meetings is by an open show of hands by shareholders who are physically present; electronic voting is provided for shareholders who are attending meetings in an electronic environment. Once voting has been completed, the results of physically cast and electronically cast votes are consolidated in the e-GEM.

2.5 Dividend Rights

There are no privileges regarding participation in the Company's profit. Profits are distributed within statutorily prescribed periods of time and as soon as possible after a general assembly meeting has taken place. The actual payment dates are determined by the general assembly.

Payment of dividends has always been an important matter for Migros, which always aimed to protect the interests of its shareholders. The utmost attention is given to the fine balance between the growth strategy and dividend payment policy. A copy of the “Dividend Distribution Policy” formulated by the Board of Directors is sent to the Public Disclosure Platform system along with material event disclosures pertaining to dividend payments. The same information is provided to shareholders at general assembly meetings and is published on the Company’s corporate website.

Dividend Policy

“Taking the Company’s long-term strategies, investments, financing plans, and profitability as well as compliance with CMB communiqués and regulations into account, the Board of Directors may submit, for the approval of the general assembly, a proposal that a portion—such as may be determined by the board—of current-year profit be paid out as cash, or as bonus shares, or as a specific mix of these two or else that it be retained within the Company.

When a general assembly decides to distribute profits it may itself determine when the dividends are to be paid and similarly it may also authorize the Board of Directors to make such a determination. In all cases, the payment of dividends must begin no later than the end of the fiscal year in which was held the general assembly meeting at which the decision to pay them was taken. Matters related to dividend payments specified in the Capital Markets Law and in CMB communiqués must also be complied with.

There are no shares in the Company that are entitled to special dividend rights; neither is there anyone who is entitled to a share of company profits who is not a shareholder.

This is the Company’s policy for the next three years. Any changes to this policy will also be shared with the public separately.

At an annual general assembly meeting of Migros held on 11 April 2017, it was proposed against distributing profit for 2016 fiscal year since the Company’s consolidated financial statements for 2016, which were drawn up in accordance with the Turkish Commercial Code and CMB requirements, showed a net loss for the period, and the General Assembly passed a resolution to that effect.

2.6 Transfer of Shares

The Company’s articles of association contain no provisions restricting the transfer of its shares. According to the charter, a general assembly may decide to issue shares at a nominally determined value.

Transfers of the Company’s shares are subject to the provisions of the Turkish Commercial Code and of capital market laws and regulations.

Subject to the satisfaction of specific conditions, the Company may acquire its own shares and accept them as collateral.

As stated in the material event disclosure dated 29 November 2017, Moonlight Capital S.A., one of the Company’s shareholders, carried out an outright sales of Migros shares that it held with a total nominal value of TRL 13,000,000 at a price of TRL 26 per share to non-resident institutional investors. Following the said transaction, Moonlight Capital S.A. owns 8.07% of the shares in Migros and holds 23.2% share in Migros in total through the funds it manages via BC Partners.

All of the members of the Migros Board of Directors possess the qualifications required of them in article 4.3 of CMB Corporate Governance Communiqué II-17.1. All of them are professionals distinguished by virtue of their exemplary business knowledge, experience, and background.

The Board of Directors identifies strategic objectives taking into account both the requirements of laws and regulations and the Company's articles of association and internal directives. The board formulates the most appropriate balance among between growth and the issues of risk vs return in line with these objectives and, mindful of the Company's long-term interests, administers the Company transparently, accountably, justly, and responsibly.

The Migros Board of Directors consists of twelve members, all of whom are elected by shareholders at a general assembly meeting. The board's membership consists of non-executive board members, except Özgür Tort. Among the board members are independent members who have the ability to act with absolute impartiality in the conduct of their duties.

According to article 4.3.4 of CMB Corporate Governance Communiqué II-17.1, the number of independent board members must not be fewer than one-third of a board's total membership. When determining how many independent board members a board must have, fractions are rounded up to the nearest whole number but in no case may the number of independent board members be fewer than two. In compliance with this rule, four of the twelve members of the Migros Board of Directors are independent members.

Under the articles of association, board members serve for three-year terms at most unless a shorter term of office is specified at the general assembly meeting at which they are elected. A board member whose term of office expires may be reelected. Shareholders assembled in a general assembly meeting may, for just cause and at any time that they deem such action to be necessary, dismiss any board member whether or not such an item is on the meeting agenda.

The Corporate Governance Committee, which performs the duties of a nomination committee at Migros, has created a pool of prospective independent board members during 2017 and the nominees have been presented in a report to the Board of Directors on 16 March 2017.

There are no binding rules governing board members undertaking duties outside the Company. Any duties that they do perform however are indicated in their CVs.

While women members served on the Board of Directors in previous years, there are no woman members on the current Board of Directors. The Corporate Governance Committee has made a recommendation to the Board of Directors that, in the years ahead, the Board be formed so as to include woman members again. As a matter of principle there are no barriers to or limitations on women serving as members of the Board of Directors except that the number of female board members must not be fewer than 25% of the total membership. All members of the board-male and female-are considered and evaluated entirely on the basis of their professional and sectoral experience and their academic qualifications.

Members of the Board of Directors are not allowed to vote in the issue of acquitting board members of their fiduciary responsibilities at general assembly meetings.

5.3 Number, Structure, and Independence of Committees Established within the Board of Directors

An audit committee, a corporate governance committee and an early detection of risk committee have been set up both in compliance with the requirements of CMB Corporate Governance Communiqué II-17.1 and in order to help the Board of Directors better fulfill its duties and responsibilities. Owing to the structure of the board, neither a nominating committee nor a remuneration committee has been set up: the functions of such committees are performed by the Corporate Governance Committee. These committees' areas of responsibility, their working principles, and their memberships are determined and publicly disclosed by the Board of Directors.

Under CMB Corporate Governance Communiqué II-17.1, all audit committee members and the heads of other committees must be selected from among a board's independent members. Care is taken to avoid having any single board member serving on more than one committee. However because the heads of the three committees must be independent board members and because all of the members of an audit committee must also be independent board members, the members of the Migros Audit Committee necessarily serve on more than one committee. No executive board member or general manager may serve on these committees.

The activities of the board's Audit Committee, Corporate Governance Committee, and Early Detection of Risk Committee for 2017 have been reviewed and assessed by the board. It was ascertained that in the conduct of their operations these committees had been mindful of the requirements of laws and regulations and that their activities had a beneficial impact on the Company's practices.

17 Besides auditing the Company's accounting system and its publicly disclosed financial statements, the Audit Committee also oversees the operation and effectiveness of independent auditing and of the Company's internal control and internal audit systems. As required by Corporate Governance Principles, the selection of independent auditors, the preparation of independent auditing contracts and the initiation of independent auditing processes, and every stage of the activities of the independent auditors are subject to the oversight of the Audit Committee.

The Audit Committee determines methods and criteria that are to be applicable when examining and finalizing any complaints the Company receives about its accounting and internal control system or its independent auditing and when company personnel are given access to confidential reports about in-house accounting and independent auditing matters.

Every year, the Audit Committee submits its proposal for the designation of the Company's independent audit firm for the fiscal year from 1 January until 31 December.

Prior to the public disclosure of annual and interim financial statements and having consulted and obtained the opinions of the Company officers concerned and of the independent auditors, the Audit Committee provides the Board of Directors with a written declaration concerning its own assessment of the statements' compatibility with respect to the Company's approved accounting principles and of their truthfulness and accuracy.

The Audit Committee convenes at least four times a year. The results of these meetings are set down in minutes that are submitted to the Board of Directors along with any decisions that are taken. Information about the Audit Committee's operations and meeting results is included in the Company's annual report.

In the fulfillment of its duties as a remuneration committee, the Corporate Governance Committee determines and oversees principles, criteria, and practices which are to be used in the remuneration of members of the Board of Directors and of managers with administrative responsibilities and which take the Company's long-term goals into account. The committee submits to the Board of Directors its recommendations concerning the remuneration that is to be paid to members of the Board of Directors and to managers with administrative responsibilities subject to the degree to which the recipients have satisfied remuneration-related criteria.

As defined by the Board of Directors in accordance with the same communiqué and other pertinent laws, regulations, and administrative provisions, the principal activities of this committee consist of determining whether or not corporate governance principles are being complied with and, if they are not being complied with, of identifying the reasons why and also any conflicts of interest arising from less than full compliance; of making recommendations to the Board of Directors to improve corporate governance practices; and of overseeing the activities of the Investor Relations Department. The goal of these efforts is to continuously improve the Company's corporate governance practices. The committee consists of five members and meets at least four times a year.

Risk Management

Pursuant to the applicable provisions of the Turkish Commercial Code and the regulations of the Capital Markets Board of Turkey, there is an Early Detection of Risk Committee at the Company, which is charged with early diagnosis of risks that may threaten the existence, development and survival of the Company, and with ensuring that necessary actions are taken in relation to those risks.

Within the scope of the activities conducted with the Company employees, the Committee has identified the major types of risks that the Company may be exposed to. Various risk indicators have been created to monitor and measure the factors that make up these types of risks. These risk indicators are analyzed and followed up by the related Company units, and changes are monitored by the Risk Committee. In periodic meetings, the Risk Committee evaluates whether appropriate actions have been taken.

Internal Audit

In the conduct and performance of its financial and operational reviews, the Internal Audit Department adheres to the following principles.

- Effective utilization of the resources of the Company,
- Effectiveness of the internal control mechanisms on operations,
- Reliability of financial statements,
- Confirmation of Company assets
- Efficiency and effectiveness of business operations,
- Compliance of employees with the quality management documentation and administrative instructions approved by the management,

The fundamental duties of the Internal Audit Department consist, among other things, of investigating/examining activities and transactions which previously had been determined and reported as having elements of risk in order to ascertain the degree to which such risks have been eliminated or brought under control in line with management-approved recommendations; performing follow-up reviews in situations where more detailed investigations and examinations are necessary.

Any problems that may be discovered during the course of review activities are investigated in detail with the aim of allowing measures to be taken as necessary while recommendations are also made concerning what action should be taken to deal with any losses which the Company is ascertained to have suffered. In all of these efforts, altering processes in such a way as to prevent recurrences of similar incidents is an issue of fundamental concern.

In line with the risk based audit approach and the year's internal control plan, in 2017 the Internal Audit Department conducted financial and operational reviews of various departments and processes. Assessments and recommendations based on review results are submitted to company senior management along with the reports in which matters where improvements may be made in keeping with the philosophy of continuous development are also pointed out. Besides financial and operational reviews, the Internal Audit Department also conducts follow-up reviews on issues about which senior management was previously informed and it was agreed that measures needed to be taken.

The Company's sustainability activities can be reached under the Investor Relations tab on the corporate website.

g) Relations with Customers and Suppliers

Getting to know its customers and markets by monitoring and acting proactively on them and pioneering change are among the crucial factors behind the innovative business style of Migros. For this reason, a number of "firsts" such as consumer rights took hold in the retail industry only after they were introduced by Migros as early as in the 1960s and 1970s. By introducing the Migros Club system for the first time in Turkey, in 1998, Migros had an opportunity to become better acquainted with its customers and provide them with differentiated service. And through this system, the Company gained the opportunity to approach its customers not only collectively but also individually by conducting customer data analyses. Migros aims to fulfill the expectations of its customers as satisfactorily as possible through the stores it operates in different formats.

In the retail industry where any product seen in any store can be imitated quickly, Migros' experience and deep-rooted innovation embedded in its corporate culture, as well as investments in supporting technology, together create a competitive advantage that cannot be easily replicated.

In the 1990s, Migros became the first retail company to introduce the barcode system and electronic cash registers which reduced waiting times at the checkout counters and decreased the Company's operating costs dramatically. Thanks to the B2B system which has been set up jointly with suppliers, all the parties involved benefit from savings in both logistics and costs. This system benefits all the stakeholders, and especially the Company's customers.

Migros has conducted a Customer Satisfaction Survey regularly since 1994. In 2017 survey, many customers who shop at our stores were asked about their opinion. The analyses undertaken on the survey results help us to have an idea about the current and future expectations of our customers. Occasional surveys conducted at kiosks inside the stores on specific matters provide the Company with the chance to hear the customers and their expectations.

Customer Relationship Management (CRM) analysis of Migros Club data and the mystery shopper surveys which are aimed at improving the service levels are quality-based performance tools specific to Migros.

Some of the other activities undertaken to achieve customer satisfaction include:

- Migros was awarded ISO 9001 Quality Management System certification in August 2005.
- Migros was awarded TS EN ISO 22000 Food Safety Management System certification by the Turkish Standards Institution (TSI) in December 2006.
- Migros selects each of its suppliers after conducting appropriate due diligence. Suppliers are audited by reputable independent organizations and products are subjected to periodic quality audits.
- In November 2013, the perspective of the Company's integrated quality management system was expanded with the inclusion of ISO 10002 Customer Satisfaction Management System certification.
- Since the day it was founded, Migros has striven to surpass its customers' expectations and to respond immediately to their requests. ISO 10002 certification is evidence of the Company's commitment to the principle of customer satisfaction. The system makes improvements in service quality possible based on internal and external customer feedback.
- Migros obtained OHSAS 18001 Occupational Health and Safety Management System certification in July 2015.
- In 2016 Migros was awarded TS EN ISO 14001 Environmental Management System certificate, and thus became the first food retailer holding five certificates granted by the TSE (Turkish Standards Institution) within the scope of Quality Management Systems.
