PERSONNEL MOVEMENTS

Consolidated headcount as of the 30.09.2025 and 31.12.2024 are 34,741 and 36,607 respectively.

FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT

Türk Telekom can be exposed to financial risks such as liquidity risk, currency risk, interest rate risk, and counterparty risk.

Within the framework of the strategy to minimise the liquidity risk, long-term financial debt is obtained from different geographical regions (the Americas, Canada, Europe, the Gulf, Japan, China, and Türkiye) and from a diversified pool of creditors (commercial banks, international financial institutions, official export credit agencies, and bond markets). This strategy enables the Group to have access to long-term financing on competitive terms, without being dependent on a limited group of funding sources.

With regard to the Eurobonds issued by Türk Telekom, the Group actively monitors the price and return dynamics of these bonds, which are tradeable instruments in the secondary markets in order to ensure optimal cash management strategy on total return and cost basis.

The need to partially procure supplies in relation to capital expenditures from foreign vendors and the need for financing through long-term and diversified funding sources cause Türk Telekom to bear liabilities in foreign currency. Hence, excluding the hedge transactions, Türk Telekom has net liabilities in foreign currency and is exposed to FX risk due to the fluctuations in exchange rates, which may have an impact on the financial statements.

Türk Telekom aims to keep the impact of FX exposure on the financial statements to a minimum with its FX risk management transactions. In this respect, Türk Telekom has a total hedge position of USD 1,364¹ million equivalent, details of which are provided in the footnotes of its audited financial statements. The total hedge position including the cash in hard currency, which provides a natural hedge against FX exposure is USD 1,452 million equivalent.

With regards to its financial assets, Türk Telekom aims to minimise the counterparty risk in accordance with the established counterparty limits and diversification policy. Türk Telekom carries out its hedge transactions regarding financial risks within the framework of the guidance and authorisation set by the Board of Directors.

13 August 2025 dated Regulatory Disclosure - Guidance Revision for 2025 Consolidated Financial Results

We are revisiting our 2025 guidance after both revenue growth and EBITDA margin exceeded our expectations in the first half of 2025.

We now expect to record c.10% revenue growth (ex-IFRIC 12) and c.41% EBITDA margin for FY2025 taking into account the high base in revenue growth in the second half, low seasonality in EBITDA margin in the final quarters and some deferred opex spending into the second half. Also, we now expect capex intensity ratio to be c.29% vs 28-29% before. While the change in our revenue and EBITDA margin guidance reflects better-than-expected performance both in revenue generation and cost management, the change in capex intensity ratio is driven by minor upward revisions to our year-end macroeconomic assumptions as well as upscaling of certain projects in mobile investments.

Our revised guidance for 2025 is as below:

- Consolidated revenue growth (excluding IFRIC 12): 10%
- EBITDA Margin: 41%
- CAPEX Intensity: 29%

	Previous Guidance	Revised Guidance
Consolidated Revenue Growth (exc. IFRIC 12)	8-9%	10%
EBITDA Margin	38-40%	41%
CAPEX intensity	28-29%	29%

Notes: 1) 2025 guidance expectations represent approximate values. 2) We assumed 29% inflation rate by the end of 2025. 3) Capex guidance excludes potential spending for the solar investments, 5G tender, concession renewal and license fees.
