SOCIMI scheme

Promontoria MACC 1x1, S.A.U. is subject to Law 11/2009, as amended by Law 16/2012 of 27 December on listed property investment companies (the "SOCIMI Act"). SOCIMIs come under a special tax scheme and must fulfil the following obligations, among others:

1. Corporate purpose obligation. Their main corporate purpose must be the holding of urban real estate for leasing, holding shares in other SOCIMIs or companies subject to a regime similar to that established for SOCIMIs regarding mandatory, legal, or statutory profit-sharing policies, as well as in Collective Investment Institutions.
2. Investment obligation.
 - They must have invested at least 80% of their assets in real estate for leasing, in land for the development of real estate intended for this purpose, provided that the development begins within three years of its acquisition, and in equity interests in other entities with a corporate purpose similar to that of the SOCIMIs.
 - This percentage will be calculated on the consolidated balance sheet if the Company is the parent company of a group according to the criteria established in Article 42 of the Commercial Code, regardless of its residence and the obligation to prepare consolidated annual accounts. This group will consist exclusively of the SOCIMI and the other entities referred to in Section 1 of Article 2 of Law 11/2009.
 - Likewise, 80% of its income must come from the income of the tax period corresponding to: (i) leasing of real estate used to fulfill its main corporate purpose to persons or entities for which none of the circumstances established in article 42 of the Commercial Code apply, regardless of residence; and (ii) dividends from shares used to fulfill its main corporate purpose. This percentage will be calculated on the consolidated balance sheet if the Company is the parent company of a group according to the criteria established in article 42 of the Commercial Code, regardless of residence and the obligation to prepare consolidated annual accounts. Said group will be composed exclusively of the SOCIMIs and the rest of the entities referred to in section 1 of article 2 of Law 11/2009.
 - The real estate must remain leased for at least three years (for the calculation, up to one year may be added to the lease period). The shares must remain in the assets for at least three years.
3. Obligation to trade on a regulated market. SOCIMIs must be listed on a regulated market in Spain or any other country with which tax information is exchanged, or on a multilateral trading system in Spain or on the system of any other Member State of the European Union or the European Economic Area. Shares must be registered.
4. Obligation to Distribute Earnings. The Company must distribute the following dividends once the commercial requirements have been met:
 - 100% of profits from dividends or shares of profits distributed by the entities referred to in section 1 of article 2 of Law 11/2009.
 - At least 50% of the profits derived from the transfer of real estate and shares or participations referred to in section 1 of article 2 of Law 11/2009, carried out after the minimum holding periods have elapsed, are used to fulfill the company's main corporate purpose. The remainder of these profits must be reinvested in other real estate or participations used to fulfill said purpose, within three years of the date of transfer.
 - At least 80% of all other profits obtained.

The dividend must be paid out within one month following the date of the distribution decision.

When dividends are distributed from reserves derived from profits from a fiscal year in which the special tax regime has been applied, their distribution must be carried out in the manner described above.

PROMONTORIA MACC 1X1 SOCIMI, S.A. (Consolidated annual report)

Notes to the consolidated annual accounts for the year ended 31 December 2024 (Expressed in thousand €)

5. Information obligation. SOCIMIs must include in their annual accounts the information required by the tax regulations governing the special regime for SOCIMIs.
6. Minimum capital. A SOCIMI's minimum share capital is €5 million.

Failure to comply with any of the above conditions would mean that the Company would be subject to tax under the general corporate tax regime as of the tax period in which the non-compliance occurred, unless it is remedied in the following tax year. Furthermore, the Company would be required to pay, along with the tax for that tax period, the difference between the tax resulting from applying the general regime and the tax collected resulting from applying the special tax regime in previous tax periods, without prejudice to any applicable late payment interest, surcharges, and penalties.

The Corporate Income Tax rate for SOCIMIs is set at 0%. However, as detailed in the amendments incorporated in Law 11/2021, of July 9, the entity will be subject to a special tax of 15% on the amount of profits obtained in the fiscal year that are not distributed. Additionally, when the dividends that the SOCIMI distributes to its shareholders with a participation percentage greater than 5% are exempt or taxed at a rate lower than 10%, the SOCIMI will be subject to a special tax of 19% on the full amount of the dividend distributed to said shareholders, which will be considered a Corporate Income Tax quota. If applicable, this special tax will accrue on the date of the agreement to distribute profits by the general meeting of shareholders, or equivalent body, and must be self-assessed and paid within two months of the accrual date. It is also subject to a 95% TPO bonus.

The members of the Company's governing body monitor compliance with the requirements established by law in order to safeguard the tax advantages established therein.

3. BASIS OF PRESENTATION OF THE ANNUAL ACCOUNTS

3.1 FAIR PRESENTATION AND ACCOUNTING PRINCIPLES APPLIED

The consolidated annual accounts have been prepared from the Groups's accounting records and are presented in accordance with current commercial legislation and with the standards established in the General Accounting Plan approved by Royal Decree 1514/2007 and the modifications incorporated into it, being the latter those incorporated by Royal Decree 1/2021, of January 12, in force for the years beginning on or after January 1, 2021, in order to show the true image of the assets, the financial situation and the results of the Group, as well as the veracity of the cash flows included in the statement of cash flows and with Law 11/2009, of October 26, which regulates Listed Investment Companies in the Real Estate Market ("SOCIMI") in relation to the information to be disclosed in the report.

All mandatory accounting principles having a significant effect have been applied when preparing these annual accounts. No non-mandatory accounting principles have been applied.

3.2 CRITICAL MEASUREMENT ISSUES, ESTIMATES OF UNCERTAINTY AND RELEVANT JUDGEMENTS WHEN APPLYING ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The preparation of the consolidated annual accounts requires significant accounting estimates, judgements and assumptions when applying the Groups's accounting policies.

When preparing the accompanying consolidated annual accounts, estimates prepared by the Parent's administrative body have been used to measure some of the assets, liabilities, income, expenses, and commitments reflected. The resulting accounting estimates will, by definition, seldom match the related actual results. The estimates and criteria deemed to be critical to the interpretation of the annual accounts refer mainly to the following aspects:

Value adjustment to investment property

As explained in Note 6, the Group will set up the appropriate provisions for the impairment of investment property when the recoverable amount is below the book cost adjusted for depreciation. Impairment assessments are performed for this purpose.

The valuation of non-current assets, other than financial assets, requires estimations in order to determine their fair value, for the purpose of evaluating a possible impairment, especially of real estate investments.

To determine this fair value, the Members of the Parent's Administrative Body have commissioned an independent expert to carry out valuations of real estate investments based on an estimate of their value based on comparable.

PROMONTORIA MACC 1X1 SOCIMI, S.A. (Consolidated annual report)

Notes to the consolidated annual accounts for the year ended 31 December 2024 (Expressed in thousand €)

Useful life of investment property

Parent's management determines the estimated useful life and related depreciation charges for its investment property. This estimate is made in relation to the period over which the investment property will generate economic benefits.

The Group assesses the useful lives of investment property and, should estimates differ from those made previously, the effect of the change is recorded on a prospective basis as from the year in which the change is made.

Corporate income tax

The Parent has availed itself of the scheme provided by Law 11/2019 of 26 October on listed property investment companies (SOCIMI), which in practice entails that the Parent is subject to 0% corporate income tax, provided it fulfils certain requirements. The modification in Law 11/2021 taxes the profits not distributed through dividends at 15%, a circumstance that is not applicable to the Parent in the year ended on December 31, 2024. The Members of the Administrative Body carry out a monitoring of compliance with the requirements established in the legislation in order to save the tax advantages established in it.

The Members of the Parent's Administrative Body monitor compliance with the requirements established in the legislation in order to save the tax advantages established therein. In this sense, the estimation of the Members of the Administrative Body is that said requirements will be met in the terms and deadlines set, not proceeding to register any type of result derived from Corporate income tax.

Although these estimates were made using the best information available at year-end 2024, future events could give rise to upward or downward changes to the estimates in the future. Changes to the accounting estimates will be applied prospectively.

Fair value of derivatives or other financial instrument

The fair value of financial instruments that are not traded in an active market is determined using valuation techniques. The Group uses judgment to select a variety of methods and make assumptions that are based primarily on market conditions existing at each balance sheet date.

3.3 COMPARABILITY

The information contained in these consolidated financial statements for the year 2024 is provided only for comparison with the information for the year 2023.

3.4 GROUPING OF ITEMS

To facilitate understanding of the consolidated balance sheet, consolidated profit and loss account, consolidated statement of changes in equity, and consolidated cash flow statement, these statements are presented in a grouped form, with the required analyses included in the corresponding notes to the report.

3.5 GOING CONCERN

On 31 December 2024 the Group reports positive working capital of 53,785 thousand euros (positive working capital of 47,883 thousand euros in 2023). Group management considers that there are sufficient resources to continue to do business in the foreseeable future. The consolidated annual accounts have therefore been prepared on a going concern basis.

4. APPLICATION OF RESULTS

The proposal for the application of the result of December 31st, 2024 formulated by the Parent and which was approved for the Sole Shareholder is as follows:

5. ACCOUNTING PRINCIPLES

The main accounting principles applied by the Group to prepare the consolidated annual accounts as at 31 December 2024, in accordance with the Chart of Accounts, are as follows:

5.1 INVESTMENT PROPERTY

The Group carries properties under this heading, including those that are under construction or development, held entirely or partially to obtain rental income, capital gains or both, instead of for use in the production or supply of goods or services, or for administrative purposes, or for sale in the ordinary course of business.

The Parent's directors do not intend to dispose of these assets in the short term, so they have opted to carry them as investment property in the balance sheet.

The assets included under this heading are presented at acquisition cost, less restatements applied in accordance with the relevant laws and less accumulated depreciation and any impairment losses.

The amount of these assets, once measured at acquisition cost, is divided by the amount of land and buildings, applying the percentages reflected in the sale and purchase deed, in turn obtained from the land registry.

Own work capitalised in respect of investment property is calculated by adding the direct or indirect costs attributable to the assets to the price of the consumable materials used.

Repair and maintenance costs relating to investment property are recorded in the income statement in the year in which they are incurred. Conversely, amounts invested in improvements that help to increase the capacity, efficiency or useful life of the assets are recognised as an increase in their costs.

Investment property is depreciated as shown below:

	Depreciation method	Years of estimated useful life
Buildings
Commercial premises, administrative buildings, premises for services and housing	Straight-line	50

When an asset's carrying amount exceeds its estimated recoverable amount, the carrying amount is immediately written down to the recoverable amount. Recoverable amounts are determined on the basis of estimated fair values.

Investment property impairment losses

Investment property is tested for impairment whenever an event or change in circumstances indicates that the carrying amount might not be recoverable. An impairment loss is recognised for the amount by which the asset's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount, this being the asset's fair value less the higher of costs to sell and value in use. For the purpose of assessing impairment losses, assets are grouped together at the lowest level for which there are identifiable cash flows. Investment property that has undergone an impairment loss is tested at each balance sheet date to identify any loss reversals.

5.2 FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

Financial assets

Financial assets at amortised cost

This category includes financial assets, including those traded on an organized market, in which the Group invests in order to receive cash flows when the contract is performed and the contractual conditions of the financial asset give rise, on specific dates, to cash flows that consist only of receipts of principal and interest on the outstanding amount of principal.

Contractual cash flows that are only receipts of the principal and interest in the outstanding principal are inherent in an arrangement that has the nature of an ordinary or common loan, regardless of whether or not the agreed interest rate is zero or below market.

Contractual cash flows that are only receipts of the principal and interest on the outstanding principal are inherent in an arrangement that has the nature of an ordinary or common loan, regardless of whether the agreed interest rate is zero or below market.

The category includes trade and non-trade receivables:

- a) Trade receivables: financial assets arising from the sale of goods or provision of services in business transactions completed on deferred payment terms; and
- b) Non-trade receivables: financial assets that are not equity instruments or derivatives do not arise from commercial transactions, give rise to receipts in determined or determinable amounts and derive from loans or credit granted by the Group.

Initial measurement

Financial assets in this category are initially measured at fair value which, unless otherwise evidenced, will be the transaction price, which will be equal to the fair value of the consideration paid plus directly attributable transaction costs.

Nonetheless, trade receivables maturing in one year or less, for which there is no explicit contractual interest rate, and loans to employees, dividends receivable and payments due on equity instruments, the amount of which is expected to be received in the short term, are measured at face value, provided the effect of not discounting cash flows is immaterial.

Subsequent measurement

Financial assets included in this category are measured at amortised cost. Accrued interest will be recorded in the income statement using the effective interest method.

This notwithstanding, receivables maturing in one year or less and initially carried at face value as indicated above will continue to be carried at face value unless they become impaired.

When the contractual cash flows from a financial asset change due to the issuer's financial difficulties, the Group analyses whether or not to recognise an impairment loss.

Impairment

The necessary value adjustments are made at the year-end at least and provided that there is objective evidence that the value of a financial asset or group of financial assets with similar risk characteristics measured collectively has become impaired as a result of one or more events occurring after their initial recognition and that result in a reduction or delay in estimated future cash flows, which may be triggered by the debtor's insolvency.

In general, the impairment loss on these financial assets is the difference between their carrying amount and the present value of future cash flows including, if applicable, those deriving from the enforcement of security interests and personal guarantees, which it is estimated will be generated, discounted at the effective interest rate calculated at the time of their initial recognition. For financial assets at variable interest rates, the effective interest rate at the closing date of the annual accounts will be used in accordance with contractual conditions.

The contracted rental insurance covers rents for 12 months, with a grace period for the first month (that is, it covers rent from the second to the twelfth month). In the definition of the accounting policy, it is assumed that all the stipulated requirements are met (for example, notification of non-payment to the insurance company within the established period, among others).

Unpaid rents are provisioned monthly based on the following criteria:

Days of non-payment after expiration and type of contract	% Provision
> 90 days in Contracts without guarantees	100%
> 90 days in Contracts with additional guarantees	100% net income
> 90 days in Contracts with rental insurance	First month and after 12 months not covered by insurance

Value corrections due to impairment, as well as their reversal when the amount of said loss decreases due to causes related to a subsequent event, are recognised as an expense or income, respectively, in the profit and loss account. The reversal of impairment is limited to the book value of the asset that would be recognised on the reversal date if the impairment had not been recorded.

Financial liabilities

Financial liabilities are included in one of the following categories for measurement purposes:

Financial liabilities at amortized cost

In general, this category includes trade and non-trade payables.

- a) Trade payables: financial liabilities arising from the purchase of goods and services in business transactions completed on deferred payment terms; and
- b) Non-trade payables: financial liabilities that are not derivatives and do not arise from commercial transactions but from loans or credit received by the Group. Participating loans that have the features of an ordinary or common loan are also included in this category, regardless of the agreed interest rate (zero or below market).

Initial measurement

Financial liabilities in this category are initially measured at fair value, which is the transaction price and is equal to the fair value of the consideration received, as adjusted for directly attributable transaction costs.

Nonetheless, trade payables maturing in one year or less for which there is no contractual interest rate, and amounts payable to third parties on shares, the amount of which is expected to be paid in the short term, are carried at face value, provided the effect of not discounting cash flows is not significant.

Subsequent measurement

Financial liabilities included in this category are carried at amortized cost. Accrued interest is recorded in the income statement using the effective interest method.

Nonetheless, payables falling due in less than one year and initially measured at face value will continue to be reflected in that amount.

Bonds and deposits

The Group has received the corresponding guarantees from its tenants. Following the regulations in force, these bonds are deposited in the corresponding regional body, except in those in the regions where a concerted regime has been signed. In this way, the guarantees received from the lessees are classified as short-term liabilities on the consolidated balance sheet and those deposited with said public body are classified as short-term assets on the consolidated balance sheet. The value for which such assets and liabilities are recorded does not differ significantly from their fair value.

Notes to the consolidated annual accounts for the year ended 31 December 2024 (Expressed in thousand €)

5.3 FINANCIAL DERIVATIVES AND ACCOUNTING HEDGE

Financial derivatives are valued, both initially and in subsequent valuations, at their fair value. The method for recognizing the resulting gains or losses depends on whether or not the derivative has been designated as a hedging instrument and, if applicable, on the type of hedge. The Group designates certain derivatives as:

Cash flow hedge

The loss or gain of the hedging instrument, in the part that constitutes an effective hedge, is recognised directly in equity. Thus, the net worth component that arises as a result of the hedge is adjusted to be equal, in absolute terms, to the lower of the following two values:

b.1) The cumulative gain or loss of the hedging instrument since the beginning of the the coverage. b.2) The cumulative change in the fair value of the hedged item (that is, the present value of the cumulative change in the hedged expected future cash flows) since the inception of the hedge.

Any remaining gain or loss on the hedging instrument or any gain or loss required to offset the change in the cash flow hedge adjustment calculated in accordance with the preceding paragraph represents an ineffectiveness of the hedge that is recognised in profit or loss for the year.

If a hedged highly probable forecast transaction subsequently results in the recognition of a non-financial asset or non-financial liability, or a hedged forecast transaction relating to a non-financial asset or non-financial liability becomes a firm commitment to which In fair value hedge accounting, that amount is removed from the cash flow hedge adjustment and included directly in the initial cost or other carrying amount of the asset or liability.

This same criteria is applied in the coverage of the exchange rate risk of the acquisition of an investment in a group, multi-group or associated company.

In all other cases, the adjustment recognised in equity is transferred to the profit and loss account to the extent that the expected future cash flow hedged affect the result for the year.

However, if the adjustment recognised in equity is a loss and it is expected that all or part of it will not be recovered in one or more future years, that amount that is not expected to be recovered is immediately reclassified to profit or loss for the year.

5.4 PROVISIONS AND CONTINGENCIES

When preparing the consolidated annual accounts, the Group's administrative body distinguishes between:

- Provisions: credit balances that cover present obligations deriving from past events, the settlement of which is likely to trigger an outflow of funds the amount or timing of which cannot be determined.
- Contingent liabilities: possible obligations resulting from past events, the future materialization of which is contingent upon the occurrence or otherwise of one or more future events that are beyond the Group's control.

The consolidated annual accounts reflect all provisions in respect of which it is more likely than not that the obligation will have to be fulfilled. Contingent liabilities are not recognised in the annual accounts but are reported in the notes to the accounts unless they are classified as remote.

Provisions are carried at the present value of the best possible estimate of the amount necessary to settle or transfer the obligation, taking into account the information available on the event and its consequences. Any adjustments arising on the updating of such provisions are reflected as a financial expense on an accrual basis.

PROMONTORIA MACC 1X1 SOCIMI, S.A. (Consolidated annual report)

Notes to the consolidated annual accounts for the year ended 31 December 2024 (Expressed in thousand €)

5.5 INCOME TAX

Corporate income tax expense or income includes both current and deferred tax.

The current tax is the amount that the Group pays as a result of the tax settlements of the Income Tax for a year. Deductions and other tax advantages in the tax amount, excluding withholdings and payments on account, as well as compensable tax losses from previous years and effectively applied in this one, give rise to a lower amount of current tax.

Deferred tax income or expense corresponds to the recognition and cancellation of deferred tax assets and liabilities. These include temporary differences that are identified as those amounts that are expected to be payable or recoverable derived from the differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities and their fiscal value, as well as negative tax bases pending compensation and credits for deductions. taxes not applied fiscally. These amounts are recorded by applying to the corresponding temporary difference or credit the type of lien at which they are expected to be recovered or settled.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for all taxable temporary differences, except those derived from the initial recognition of goodwill or other assets and liabilities in an operation that does not affect either the tax result or the accounting result and is not a business combination.

On the other hand, deferred tax assets are only recognised to the extent that it is considered probable that the Group will have future taxable profits against which to make them effective.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities, originating from operations with direct charges or credits to equity accounts, are also accounted for with a balancing entry in equity. Regarding what is indicated in the previous paragraphs and in relation to what is explained later, it should be commented that the accounting of deferred taxes, both assets and liabilities, is revalued considering that the Parent is covered by the SOCIMI regime, therefore only those tax assets that are expected to be used or those tax liabilities that are expected to be settled as a result of non-compliance with the requirements established in the legislation that regulate this type of company are recorded.

It should be noted that on 28 July 2020, with effect as from 1 January 2020, the Parent notified its local Tax Administration State Agency Office of the sole shareholder's decision to apply the special SOCIMI tax scheme.

Under Law 11/2009 (26 October) on listed property investment companies, entities opting to apply the special tax scheme provided by that law pay 0% corporate income tax. Article 25 of the revised Corporate Income Tax Act introduced under Royal Decree-Law 4/2004 (5 March) is not applicable to any tax losses generated. The rules for deductions and allowances provided by Chapters II, III and IV of that law are not applicable either. All matters not envisaged in Law 11/2009 are governed by the revised Corporate Income Tax Act.

The Group is subject to a special 19% tax on the entire amount of dividends or shares in profits paid to shareholders owning at least 5% of share capital, where the dividends, for the shareholders, are tax exempt or subject to a tax below 10%. This tax is treated as corporate income tax payable.

Recognition of deferred tax assets

The Group recognizes deferred tax assets provided there will probably be sufficient future taxable income to offset them or where tax legislation provides for the future conversion of deferred tax assets into a receivable from the tax authorities.

The Group recognizes the conversion of a deferred tax asset into a balance receivable from the tax authorities where applicable under prevailing tax legislation. To this end, the deferred tax asset is written off against deferred income tax expense and the receivable is credited to current income tax. The Group also recognizes the exchange of a deferred tax asset for government securities at the acquisition date.

The Group recognizes the corresponding payment obligation as an operating expense credited to the balance payable to the authorities when it accrues under the Corporate Income Tax Act.

Nonetheless, assets that rise from the initial recognition of assets or liabilities in a transaction that is not a business combination and, on the transaction date, does not affect either the reported result or the tax base, are not recognised.

Notes to the consolidated annual accounts for the year ended 31 December 2024 (Expressed in thousand €)

Barring evidence to the contrary, future taxable income is not deemed probable when future recovery is expected to take place in a period exceeding 10 years as from the year end, regardless of the nature of the deferred tax asset or, in the case of credits arising from deductions and other tax benefits pending application due to a lack of tax payable, when the activity has taken place or the return generating the deduction or allowance right has been obtained but there are reasonable doubts as to the fulfilment of applicable requirements.

The Group only recognizes deferred tax assets for offsetable tax losses where future taxable income is likely to be obtained to offset them in a period not exceeding the period stipulated in applicable tax legislation, up to the maximum limit of 10 years, unless there is evidence of probable recovery over a longer period, where tax legislation allows them to be offset over a longer period or there are no time limits on their offset.

Conversely, sufficient taxable income to recover the deferred tax assets is deemed likely provided there are sufficient temporary tax differences relating to the same tax authority and the same taxpayer, the reversal of which is expected in the same tax period in which the deductible temporary differences are forecast to reverse or in periods in which a tax loss arising from a deductible temporary difference may be offset against previous or subsequent gains.

The Group recognizes deferred tax assets that have not been recognised due to exceeding the 10-year recovery period provided that the future reversal period does not exceed 10 years as from the year end or where there are sufficient temporary tax differences.

In order to determine future taxable income, the Group considers tax planning opportunities provided it intends or is likely to adopt them.

Valuation of deferred tax assets and liabilities:

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply to the years when the asset is realized or the liability is settled, based on tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantially enacted and after considering the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Group expects to recover the assets or settle the liabilities.

Compensation and classification

The Group only offsets deferred tax assets and liabilities if there is a legal right vis-à-vis the tax authorities and it has the intention to settle the resulting amounts at their net amount or to realize the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognised in the consolidated balance sheet under non-current assets or liabilities, irrespective of the expected date of recovery or settlement.

5.6 INCOME AND EXPENSE

Income and expenses are recorded on an accruals basis, i.e. in the period in which the income or expense deriving from the goods or services in question is earned or incurred rather than the period in which the cash is received or disbursed. Income is stated at the fair value of the consideration received less discounts and taxes.

Revenues are recognised when control of the goods or services is transferred to customers. At that time, revenue is recognised in the amount of consideration to which the Group is expected to be entitled in exchange for the transfer of committed goods and services under contracts with customers, as well as other revenue not derived from contracts with customers forming part of the Groups's ordinary business activities. The amount recognised is determined by deducting any discounts, returns, price reductions, incentives or rights granted to customers, as well as value added tax and other directly related taxes that must be charged, from the amount of consideration for the transfer of the goods or services committed to customers or other revenue relating to the Group's ordinary activities.

In cases in which the price set in contracts with customers includes a variable consideration, the price to be recognised includes the best estimate of the variable consideration, provided it is highly likely that there will be no significant reversal of the amount of revenue recognised when the uncertainty associated with the variable consideration is subsequently resolved. The Group's estimates are based on historical data taking account of customer type, transaction type and the specific terms of each agreement.

Property leases and sales are the main source of revenue recognised by the Group:

PROMONTORIA MACC 1X1 SOCIMI, S.A. (Consolidated annual report)

Notes to the consolidated annual accounts for the year ended 31 December 2024 (Expressed in thousand €)

Lease income (provision of services)

The Group leases a part of the properties owned, obtaining revenue from the provision of services related to this activity.

The tenant pays instalments as stipulated in the lease, recognizing revenue on a straight-line basis over the estimated lease term. The costs associated with each rental payment, including asset depreciation, are recognised as an expense.

The leases do not include multiple services beyond the tenant's use of the dwelling. Therefore, the leases consist solely of a single obligation to which all revenue is allocated.

If circumstances arise that alter the initial estimates of revenue, such estimates are reviewed. Reviews may lead to increases or decreases in estimated revenues and costs and are reflected in the income statement in the period in which the circumstances giving rise to them are known by management.

Interest income

Interest income from financial assets valued at amortized cost is recognised using the effective interest rate method. When an account receivable suffers a loss due to value impairment, the Group reduces the book value to its recoverable amount, discounting the estimated future cash flows at the original effective interest rate of the instrument, and continues carrying the discount as less interest income. Interest income from loans that have suffered impairment losses are recognised using the effective interest rate method.

5.7 RELATED-PARTY TRANSACTIONS

The Group's transactions with related parties are all carried out at arm's length (see note 15). Additionally, supporting documents on transfer prices are updated according to applicable tax regulations. The Group Management believes that there are no significant risks associated with this matter that could give rise to material liabilities in the future.

5.8 CASH AND CASH EQUIVALENTS

This heading includes cash, bank current accounts and deposits, and assets acquired under repurchase agreements which meet the following requirements:

- They are convertible into cash.
- On acquisition, they will mature in three months or less.
- They are not subject to significant value fluctuation risk.
- They form part of the Group's normal cash management policy.

5.9 EQUITY INSTRUMENTS

Equity Instruments are classified in accordance with the relevant contractual agreements. An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of the Group after deducting all of its liabilities.

Equity instruments issued by the Parent are recognized in equity at the proceeds received, net of issue costs.

5.10 CASH FLOW STATEMENT

The terms employed in the cash flow statement have the following meanings:

- Cash and cash equivalents: they include cash and demand bank deposits. Cash equivalents are financial instruments forming part of the Group's ordinary cash management, are convertible into cash, have an initial maturity period of no more than three months and are subject to insignificant risk of value changes.

PROMONTORIA MACC 1X1 SOCIMI, S.A. (Consolidated annual report)

Notes to the consolidated annual accounts for the year ended 31 December 2024 (Expressed in thousand €)

- Cash flows: inflows and outflows of cash and cash equivalents, which are understood to be investments for a term of less than three months that are highly liquid and subject to a low risk of value changes.
- Operating activities: the Group's main sources of revenue and other activities that may not be classed as investing or financing activities.
- Investing activities: acquisition, sale or disposal by other means of long-term assets and other investments not included in cash and cash equivalents.
- Financing activities: those that result in changes in the size and composition of equity and of financial liabilities.

5.11 CLASSIFICATION OF BALANCES AS CURRENT AND NON-CURRENT

Current assets are considered to be those linked to the normal operating cycle, which is generally considered to be one year, as well as other assets whose maturity, disposal, or realization is expected to occur in the short term from the year-end closing date, financial assets held for trading, with the exception of financial derivatives with a settlement period of more than one year, and cash and other cash equivalents. Assets that do not meet these requirements are classified as non-current.

Likewise, current liabilities include those linked to the normal operating cycle, financial liabilities held for trading, with the exception of financial derivatives with a settlement period of more than one year, and, in general, all obligations whose maturity or extinction will occur in the short term. Otherwise, they are classified as non-current.

5.12 LEASES

When the Group is the lessor

When assets are leased under a finance leases, the present value of the lease payments, discounted at the implicit contractual interest rate, is recognised as a receivable. The difference between the gross amount receivable and the present value of that amount relating to unaccrued interest is taken to the income statement for the year in which such interest accrues, using the effective interest method.

Assets used under operating leases are included in the consolidated balance sheet based on their nature. Lease income is recognised on a straight-line basis over the lease period.

6. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT

6.1 FINANCIAL RISK FACTORS

The Group's activities are exposed to various financial risks: credit risk, liquidity risk and market risk (including foreign exchange risk, price risk and interest rate risk). The Group's overall risk management program focuses on the unpredictability of financial markets and seeks to minimize potential adverse effects on the Group's financial performance.

a) Credit risk:

In general, the Group maintains its treasury and equivalent liquid assets in financial institutions with a high credit rating.

Customer creditworthiness is assessed based on their financial position, past experience and other factors. Individual credit limits are set based on internal and external ratings in accordance with the Group's strategy. Credit limit utilization is regularly monitored.

b) Liquidity risk:

In order to ensure liquidity and meet all payment obligations arising from its activities, the Group maintains the cash flow shown on its consolidated balance sheet .

PROMONTORIA MACC 1X1 SOCIMI, S.A. (Consolidated annual report)

Notes to the consolidated annual accounts for the year ended 31 December 2024 (Expressed in thousand €)

Management monitors the Group's liquidity reserve forecasts based on expected cash flows and does not anticipate any liquidity risk in the immediate future.

c) Market risk (including foreign exchange, price and interest rate risk):

Both the Group's treasury and financial debt are exposed to interest rate risk, which could have an adverse effect on financial results and cash flows .

(I) Exchange rate risk

The Group does not operate internationally; therefore, it is not exposed to exchange rate risk from transactions with foreign currencies .

(II) Price risk

Rental prices for properties may be affected by market prices. However, the Group periodically reviews market trends and currently detects no threat of impairment to its assets.

The Group is not exposed to equity price risk as there are no investments subject to such risk.

(III) Interest rate risk on cash flows and fair value

The Group is partially financed by contributions from the Parent's Sole Shareholder, this method of financing is not affected by interest rates.

Finally, the Parent signed a participating loan with its Sole Shareholder in 2021, which has also been extended in the years 2023 and 2024, which would only be affected by interest if the Parent makes a profit.

6.2 FAIR VALUE ESTIMATION

The fair value of financial liabilities for the purpose of presenting financial information is estimated by discounting future contractual cash flows at the current market interest rate available to the Group for similar financial instruments. The carrying amount of trade receivables and debts is assumed to approximate their fair value.

8.2 NATURE AND RISK LEVEL OF FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

Quantitative information

The maximum exposure to the main risks at 31 December 2024 and 2023, excluding foreign exchange risk, is set out below:

Asset group	2024	2023
Receivables
Trade and other receivables	1,034	4,140
Cash and cash equivalents	60,024	52,908
Liquidity
Long-term payables	509,807	377,637
Short-term payables	629	521
Trade and other payables	4,520	7,361
Market
Investments in land and buildings	597,008	456,133

Exposure to interest rate risk arises when the Group obtains loans at variable interest rates. At the year-end, the Group's financing is subject to variable interest rates. Bank borrowings are indexed to the EURIBOR plus a spread (Note 5). However, the financing facility states that if the EURIBOR is above zero, the Group must contract hedging instruments to cover potential interest rate fluctuations.

Foreign exchange exposure arises when the Group completes transactions denominated in a foreign currency or holds assets or liabilities measured in a currency other than the presentation currency. The Group is not currently exposed to foreign exchange risk as it does not affect foreign-currency transactions. As there are no plans to complete significant transactions in particularly volatile currencies, no foreign exchange hedging is envisaged.

The loss or gain of the hedging instrument, in the part that constitutes an effective hedge, is recognised directly in equity. Thus, the equity component that arises because of the hedge is adjusted to be equal, in absolute terms, to the lower of the following two values:

- 1) The accumulated loss or gain of the hedging instrument since the beginning of the hedge.
- 2) The cumulative change in the fair value of the hedged item (i.e., the present value of the cumulative change in the hedged expected future cash flows) since the beginning of the hedge.

PROMONTORIA MACC 1X1 SOCIMI, S.A. (Consolidated annual report)

Notes to the consolidated annual accounts for the year ended 31 December 2024 (Expressed in thousand €)

The contracted derivatives have a contracted amount of 275,000 thousand euros and cover a notional amount of 275,000, euros as of December 31st, 2024.

As of December 31st, 2024, the interest rate CAP meets the conditions to be considered an accounting hedge, and therefore, changes in value, less their tax effect, have been recorded in equity for a negative amount of €954 thousand (€3,179 thousand in 2023).

As of December 31st, 2024, the financial expense recorded in the income statement for the amortization of the premium on derivative financial instruments amounts to €4,187 thousand (€2,358 thousand in 2023).

- Promontoria Macc Marina RE, S.A.U.

The debt with credit institutions reflected on the balance sheet originates from a financing contract with a fixed and variable interest rate component (EURIBOR). This contract is divided into tranches, with the fixed interest rate varying. This contract was signed on August 11th, 2022, with Morgan Stanley Principal Funding , INC., with a total drawdown limit of 62.5% of the asset value as of the anniversary date of the financing contract.

The maturity date for this facility is August 25th, 2027, by which date all outstanding amounts must be repaid. There are no mandatory repayments until the maturity date. The nominal amount outstanding as of December 31st, 2024, and December 31st, 2023, amounts to €14,477.

Long-term debt includes an amount of €56 thousand (2023: €78 thousand) for the loan origination fee and other capitalizable costs, which have been considered in the initial and subsequent valuation of the liability, so that they are charged to the profit and loss account according to the effective interest rate method.

Accrued interest outstanding as of December 31st, 2024, was €10 thousand (2023: €10 thousand). Furthermore, the financial expense recorded in the income statement for the year 2024 using the effective interest method amounted to €990 thousand (2023: €818 thousand).

This financing contract entails obligations imposed on Promontoria Macc Marina RE, S.A.U., the main ones being compliance with certain compliance ratios, such as:

- Debt Yield: Ratio of revenue to asset value. Must be greater than 5.5% in the first year of the contract.
- Debt Service Coverage Ratio (DCSR): Ratio of revenue to outstanding debt (interest + principal due). Must remain above 130%.
- Loan to Value (LTV): Ratio of debt to asset value.

These ratios must be met from the beginning of the financing agreement, and in fact, all of them were being met at year-end. The Promontoria Macc Marina RE, S.A.U. directors believe these ratios are met as of December 31st, 2024, and will be met during the following year.

In addition, financial and business reporting obligations are required throughout the duration of the financing.

Likewise, a guarantee promise contract was signed between Promontoria Macc Marina RE, S.A.U. and the financing entities, by which the Cerberus NPL Fund , LP Company is established as guarantor of the loan between Promontoria Macc Marina RE and Morgan Stanley Principal Funding , INC.

As of December 31st, 2024 and 2023, the heading "Short-term debts with credit institutions" shows the balance of accrued interest pending payment.

Derivative financial instruments

As of December 31st, 2024, and 2023, long-term financial investments include a derivative contracted for an interest rate hedge associated with the mortgage loan, the fair value of which at year-end amounts to €204 thousand (€500 thousand as of December 31st, 2023). All contracts establish a fixed rate of 1.75% of the notional interest and mature on August 25th, 2027.

The loss or gain on the hedging instrument, to the extent that it constitutes an effective hedge, is recognized directly in equity. Thus, the equity component arising from the hedge is adjusted to equal, in absolute terms, the lower of the following two values:

Notes to the consolidated annual accounts for the year ended 31 December 2024 (Expressed in thousand €)

- 1) The cumulative loss or gain of the hedging instrument since the inception of the hedge.
- 2) The cumulative change in the fair value of the hedged item (i.e., the present value of the cumulative change in the hedged expected future cash flows) since the inception of the hedge. In fiscal year 2024, the loss on the hedging instrument recognized in equity amounts to €352 thousand (loss of €267 thousand in fiscal year 2023).

Any remaining loss or gain on the hedging instrument or any loss or gain required to offset the change in the cash flow hedge adjustment calculated in accordance with the preceding paragraph represents a hedge ineffectiveness that is recognized in consolidated profit or loss.

Management conducts an annual hedge accounting effectiveness test, having determined that the ineffective portion of the hedge was not significant at the close of fiscal years 2024 and 2023.
