Explanatory Statement
(Pursuant to Sections 102(1) and 110 of the Companies Act, 2013)

Currently, the Memorandum of Association of the Company provides for the main objects of the Company related to Infrastructure, Power and Sports Activities. The Company is presently engaged in the business of Infrastructure only. The Company had ventured in the Sports Activities earlier and had plans to start business in power sector. However the lack of lucrative business opportunities and market in these two industries, the Company would like not to enter into these businesses and remove from the main objects of the Company.

The Company is planning to foray into the Entertainment Industry, considering the emerging opportunities available in the sector leading to the value addition to the company. In view of this the Company proposes to add the Entertainment business as one of the Main Objects of the Company.

In this regard, the Clause III(A) & III(B) of the Memorandum of Association is proposed to be altered by replacing them with the new clauses as mentioned in the notice.

Further, in view of Companies Act, 2013, the other Objects clause in the Memorandum of Association have become redundant as the Companies Act 2013, recognizes only the main objects and matters necessary in furtherance of the main objects. Therefore, it is proposed to delete the existing other objects clause.

The Board is of the opinion that the aforesaid Resolution is in the best interest of the Company and hence recommends the Special Resolution for your approval.

None of the Directors / Key Managerial Personnel/Managers of the Company / their relatives are, in any way, concerned or interested, financially or otherwise, in this resolution except to the extent of their shareholding / directorship, if any.

TCS inks two big-ticket office lease deals

Takes 400,000 sq ft in Noida; 375,000 sq ft in Bengaluru

RAGHAVENDRA KAMATH
Mumbai, 2 August

Riding on revenue growth, Tata Consultancy Services (TCS) has inked two large office space deals in the last quarter. TCS, India's largest software firm, signed a 400,000 sq ft office space deal in Okaya Tower in Noida's Sector 62.

It is expected to pay a rent of ₹19 crore a year, or ₹40 a sq ft a month, on the property. The lease deal is one of the largest in the National Capital Region (NCR) this year.

The company also signed a 375,000 sq ft office deal in Brigade Bhauwala (con in Bengaluru's Whitefield area, where it is expected to pay ₹34 per sq ft a month).

"The properties are expected to be used by the company as software development facilities," said a source who did not wish to be identified.

TCS did not respond to an e-mail questionnaire on the subject.

In the June 2016 quarter, TCS posted a 3.7 per cent sequential increase in dollar revenue.

Although the company is hiring less in FY17, it is still the largest employer in the Indian software sector with 360,000 employees. The company's attrition rate has also come down consistently in the past couple of quarters, reports said.

Both Indian and foreign tech companies are taking large offices in the country to support their growth plans.

IBM and ValueLabs leased 300,000 sq ft and 220,000 sq ft, respectively, in Hyderabad in the second quarter of this calendar year, according to Colliers International.

TCS rival Infosys took 620,000 sq ft in Hinewadi in Pune and 152,000 sq ft in Bengaluru in the March quarter.

US-based HP leased nearly 500,000 sq ft in Maruthi Concorde Tower in Electronic City in Bengaluru, while IBM also took 500,000 sq ft in Bhartiya City, an integrated property project at Thansandra in Bengaluru.

ATURNAROUND

During 2017-18, the situation in HPL started worsening as operations got seriously affected due to cash crunch.

It took the firm on the verge of being reported to the Board for Industrial and Financial Reconstruction

While the debt situation has remained stagnant at ₹4,000 crore, the company has been able to stage a turnaround last year, improving its operating margins.

As on April 23, 2016, HPL's assets stood at ₹264 crore

This implied that its accumulated losses were half its peak net worth.

While the debt situation of HPL has remained stagnant at ₹4,000 crore, the company has been able to stage a turnaround last year, improving its operating margins.

As on April 23, 2016, HPL's assets stood at ₹264 crore. Nevertheless, servicing the existing loans, which account for ₹630 crore a year will continue to be a drag on the company. "We are now aiming to consolidate our business entities so that we may improve our operational performance," a senior HPL official told Business Standard.

It has already approached the Calcutta High Court to amalgamate Haldia Cracker Complex (HCL) and Bengal Cracker Complex (BCL), its wholly owned subsidiaries, with itself, which will increase the company's paid-up capital.

HCL has a paid-up capital of ₹61.56 crore, while BCL has a ₹30.3 crore paid-up capital which will get added to the ₹1,959 crore paid-up capital of HPL after the merger.

The move follows The Charterhouse Group (TCG), the majority stakeholder in HPL, spending ₹653 crore to buy 260 million shares from the West Bengal government, increasing its stake to from 41 per cent to 51 per cent.

CAG red-flags $1.6-bn excess cost recovery by RIL

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, 2 August

The government auditor CAG has red-flagged $1.6 billion of excess cost recovered by Reliance Industries in the KG-D6 gas block and took over of state-owned ONGC's gas flow, according to the eastern offshore fields of the Mukesh Ambani led firm.

The Comptroller and Auditor General of India (CAG), in a report tabled in Parliament, said ₹31.88 km of KG-D6 gas needs to be taken away from RIL as per the contract and cost of discovery is not to be recovered from sale of oil and gas from the block.

Also, cost recovery for doing discovery conformity test should be looked into, it said.

CAG said November 2015 report of independent expert Jeyakumar & MacNaughton (J&M) submitted on reversion continuity between the KG-D6 and contiguous ONGC operated blocks has pointed out that gas has been migrated from the blocks owned by state-owned RIL to the private company operated fields.

"The report indicates that as on March 31, 2015, of the gas initially in place, 44.32 per cent in Godavari PML and 34.71 per cent in KG-DWN-98/2 (both of ONGC) had migrated" to KG-D6, it said.

"The report projected a high proportion of gas migration and its production through RIL operated KG-DWN-98/3 block/D6 block by end of 2019."

The government has appointed one member committee under Justice A.P. Shah to consider the report and recommend future action.

Novopay banks on rural, unbanked customers

RAGHU KRISHNAN
Bengaluru, 2 August

Novopay, a Bengaluru-based payments company, says it is slowly disrupting the mobile wallet space by focusing on unbanked and rural customers.

Many of these customers use their nearby store with the Novopay Solutions board as their local banking channel. Money transferred from kin working in Delhi or Mumbai to their bank account is reflected into their Novopay wallet, bank-backed, with the store keeper assisting them in doing transactions on a smartphone.

The local store validates the user who receives the money with the Aadhaar-based unique identification number database, using biometric scanners and smartphones. Novopay is a bank-backed account wallet, with the money stored in the wallet linked to the bank account.

"Everybody is targeting the 200 million middle class with a smartphone — they think, eventually, the guy will buy e-commerce goods on my wallet. We actually are targeting the 900 million people in the hinterlands," says Srividya Natchiamini, co-founder and chairman of Novopay Solutions.

"The people who are not being served by the banking sector are our target audience. Even from a business perspective, this is a huge market."

As the chief technology officer of the Aadhaar project, Natchiamini helped Nandan Nilekani build the underlying technology for the world's largest citizen identification project. With Novopay, he and co-founders Gautam Krishnadas and Ravi Kumar are putting to use the Aadhaar authentication system to provide access and financial services to reach out to the unbanked, where transactions can be as low as ₹10.

Novopay has tied up with RIL, Axis Bank, IDFC and Bank of India to deliver its services to customers via the bank-backed wallet.

user base by partnering with firms that by supplying cash to get more users. IDFC Bank, a strategic investor in Novopay, utilises the underlying software built by the company to run its banking operations.

Natchiamini, who is also a member of the National Payments Corporation of India (NPCI), said the company is using digital instruments to make payments with a 15 per cent of Gross Domestic Product (GDP) in 2023, estimates non-cash transactions will overtake those in cash, as more people adopt digital channels for transacting money.

Start-ups take the merger route

KARAN CHOUDHURY
New Delhi, 2 August

For start-ups getting into partnerships in their quest to find success and profitability has become the new big thing. Start-ups with strengths in different areas are joining forces to create a more wholesome ecosystem, strong enough to take on compete.

In a latest development, Freecharge, the digital payments platform acquired by Snapdeal, has partnered with payment gateway solution provider, PayUbiz, to further strengthen its merchant base and help consumers move from cash to digital payments.

This integration allows Freecharge to tap PayUbiz's more than 10,000 online merchants across sectors will also be accessible to the patrons of the mobile wallet. "We want to make Freecharge wallet ubiquiitous in both the online and offline space by creating an ecosystem of partnerships. Through PayUbiz association, we will further strengthen our partner ecosystem and enable digital payments across 10,000 more merchants. Alliances such as this will certainly help us move in the right direction," said Govind Rajan, chief executive officer.

Both the stakeholders believe partnerships are critical to scale acceptance and build the habit of digital payments. The user interface and transaction experience ensures that consumers have the swiftest yet safest digital payments experience. Enabling wallet payments with merchants gives the ubiquity and reach that is required to take India to a cashless tomorrow.

Unlike partnerships have forged between start-ups, some after a long drawn battle decided to merge the company's China operations. In the merger, the two companies will invest around a billion dollars in their global company.
