"We congratulate TCS in achieving the 2015 Oracle JD Edwards Excellence Award for Best Success Story," said John Schiff, vice president, Oracle's JD Edwards. "This achievement is a testament to their dedication to excellence and providing customers solutions and services that drive real business value and results."

"It is an honor to be recognized by Oracle as a winner of the 2015 JD Edwards Partner Excellence Award," said Sunder Singh, Global Head, Oracle Practice, TCS. "Our collaboration with Oracle enables us to deliver innovative solutions that can help large enterprises transform their businesses and better serve their customers. As customers begin to demand personalized service across platforms, it is increasingly important for brand owners to engage, serve and sell to their customers in new ways. In order to deliver real-time engagement on the front end, companies must fundamentally change traditional business processes and reimagine traditional database systems. Helping companies to navigate this journey is a TCS core competency, powered by Oracle's suite of apps and products. TCS is a Diamond level member of Oracle PartnerNetwork (OPN).
