for three days and offered to take care of the newborn.

When Suganya was getting ready to take the baby for vaccination on Saturday morning, Meenatchi allegedly volunteered to take the boy to another ward for the procedure. Despite Suganya's hesitation, Meenatchi took the child and left the ward, police said. Suganya, who was following her soon realised the woman and her baby were missing, and alerted hospital authorities.

The hospital staff, while checking CCTV footage, saw Meenatchi boarding an autorickshaw with the infant. The autorickshaw driver led the police to Thiruvembur, where Meenatchi's mother resides.

Further inquiry revealed she had left for her native in Salem district, from where she was arrested. She was brought to the Tiruchy police station, and the infant was handed over to his parents.

According to police, Meenatchi told them she had married a second time to a man named Sekar and had no children. She had lied to her husband and his family that she was pregnant. She confessed that she came to MGMGH posing as a pregnant woman with the intention of abducting an infant and presenting the baby as her own, a senior police officer said.

spite her staying in the ward for three days.

A senior official from MGMGH told TNZE, "We regularly inquire about visitors entering the maternity ward. However, one or two individuals may enter without our knowledge, especially during shift changes. We will look into the issue and implement stricter monitoring measures." Sources said the hospital has ordered strict RFID verification after it came to light that the woman had removed the newborn's ID tag. Officials said the discharge system includes mandatory summaries, blue wrist tags for mothers, RFID tags for babies, and staff-assisted transfers, including support through the 102 ambulance service. However, overcrowding by multiple attenders was flagged as a key vulnerability.

CPJ functionary Ibrahim urged to deploy one or two attenders per patient, noting large groups of relatives often cause congestion.

A senior official in MGMGH said they have planned to restrict entry to the baby zone, to post warning notices, and provide video-based viewing of newborns to curb crowding. Officials also confirmed an ultrasound centre and a newly inaugurated X-ray unit operate in the same building, highlighting the need for tighter internal monitoring.

'Comment not to demean women'

BJP MLA and the party's national women's wing president Vanathi Srinivasan on Saturday said that

Nainar
Nagenthran respects women and the comment was made without any intention to demean them

Tamilisai Soundararajan

made without any intention to demean them.

Several leaders from DMK, especially woman leaders, criticised the statement. DMK parliamentary party leader Kanimozhi condemned Nagenthran's remarks, saying it reflected the BJP-RSS's "vile politics" of dragging women into attacks on men. "Even to criticise a man, they resort to insulting a woman in an uncivilised manner," she said in a post on X.

DMK MP Thamizhachi Thangapandian said it was inappropriate for the state president of the ruling party in India to speak disparagingly about a woman in public while expressing political views. "Speaking about women with dignity and treating them with respect is what constitutes civilised politics," she said in a post on X.

TNCC president K Selvarunthagai said it was unfair to drag an actress and Vijay's personal life into politics when the BJP, as the ruling party at the centre, had several governance issues to address. Congress MP Jothimani sought a public apology from Nainar Nagenthran.

This is not the first time the BJP has targeted Vijay in personal terms. Former BJP state president K Annamalai, while criticising Vijay earlier for what he termed "work-from-home politics", had alleged that the actor was doing politics "while dancing with actresses and pinching their hips" on film sets.

AMMK leader TTV Dhinakaran, who is part of the NDA, said he had not watched the video of the remarks but stressed refraining from commenting on a person's personal life was essential for healthy politics.
