OVER CASE AGAINST MP IMRAN PRATAPGARHI

'Must understand freedom of speech, expression': SC pins up Gujarat Police

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
NEW DELHI, MARCH 3

THE SUPREME COURT Monday pulled up the Gujarat Police over the FIR it filed against Congress MP Imran Pratapgarhi over an Instagram post earlier this year and said that "75 years after the existence of the Constitution, freedom of speech and expression has to be at least now understood by the police."

Justice A S Oka was presiding over a two-judge bench as it reserved judgment on the appeal filed by Pratapgarhi challenging the January 17, 2025, Gujarat High Court order refusing to quash the FIR against him.

According to the prosecution, after attending a wedding function at Jamnagar, Pratapgarhi uploaded a video with the poem "Ye khon ke pyaar host suno" running in the background. The words in the poem were deemed objectionable.

Hearing the appeal on Monday, the bench — also comprising Justice Ujjal Bhuyan — expressed its reservation over the police action.

Imran Pratapgarhi

Justice Oka said the police should have shown some sensitivity before lodging the FIR. He was of the view that the poem propagates a message of non-violence. "This actually promotes non-violence. It has nothing to do with religion, this has nothing to do with any anti-national activity. Police have shown lack of sensitivity," he said.

Appearing for Gujarat, Solicitor General Tushar Mehta said that people may have appreciated its meaning differently.

To this, Justice Oka said, "This is the problem. Now nobody has any respect for creativity. If you read it plainly, it says that even if you suffer injustice, you suffer it with love. Those whose blood-thirsty, listen to us. Even if the fight for justice is met with injustice, we will meet that injustice with love." Mehta said that Pratapgarhi's contention was that it was his social media team which uploaded the video and that he ought to take responsibility for the team's actions.

Justice Oka said the police ought to have shown sensitivity in the matter. "They must at least read and understand."

Senior Advocate Kapil Sibal, appearing for Pratapgarhi, urged the court to say something about the high court's judgment. Mehta opposed this.

Acting on a complaint, the Gujarat Police had booked Pratapgarhi on January 3 under Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita sections 156 (promoting enmity between different groups on grounds of religion, race, place of birth, residence, language, etc., and doing acts prejudicial to harmony), 197 (Imputations, assertions prejudicial to national integration), 299 (deliberate and malicious acts, intended to outrage religious feelings of any class by insulting its religion or religious beliefs), 302 (uttering words, etc., with deliberate intent to wound religious feelings of any person) and 57 (abetting commission of offence by the public or by more than ten persons).

The MP then moved the high court seeking quashing of the FIR where the prosecution contended that the "words of the poem clearly indicate the rage to be unleashed against the throne of the state" and that "pursuant to the said post, the response received from the various persons of the community certainly indicates that the repercussion is also very serious and certainly disturbing to the social harmony of the society."

Dismissing the Congress MP's plea, the high court had said, "looking to the tenor of the poem, it certainly indicates something about the throne. The responses received to the said post by other persons also indicate that (the) poem has been posted in a manner which certainly creates a disturbance in social harmony."

The court had observed, "It is expected from any citizen of India that he should behave in a manner where the communal harmony or social harmony should not be disturbed and the petitioner, who is a Member of Parliament, is expected to behave in some more restricted manner as he is expected to know more about the repercussions of such (a) post."

The high court had added, "...on bare reading of the FIR in question and also the provisions of law which are invoked in the present case, I am of the opinion that further investigation is required in this matter. Further, as pointed out by learned Public Prosecutor, the petitioner has not cooperated in the process of investigation as pursuant to the earlier notice issued on 4.12.2025, he did not remain present on 11.12.2025 and again the second notice is issued on 15.12.2025 asking him to remain present on 22.12.2025 before the concerned investigating officer."

In this regard also, it is noteworthy to mention that the petitioner being a Member of Parliament is considered as maker of law and is expected that he should cooperate in the process of investigation and show high regards to the process of law in proper manner," the court had stated.

Surat: Missing for five days, diamond firm manager 'consumes poison' in auto-rickshaw

Had visited Kumbh; was worried about marriage of three kids: Police

KAMAALSAIYED
SURAT, MARCH 3

A FEW days after he went missing, leaving a note behind, the manager of Kiran Gems attempted suicide by consuming poison inside an auto-rickshaw in Surat, police said.

Praveen Dholakia (48), a resident of Amroli area in Surat, was rushed by the auto driver to a hospital where his condition is said to be stable, the officers added.

Before he was found on Sunday, police said, Dholakia had gone to Prayagraj in Uttar Pradesh where he attended the recently concluded Maha Kumbh, police said, adding that it looked like he tried to take the extreme step because he was worried about the marriage of his children.

Kiran Gems holds the distinction of having the highest number of diamond polishers working in a single firm, according to the Gem & Jewellery Export Promotion Council (GJEPC). It also has the record for the highest volume of exports of diamonds, according to the council.

Police said Dholakia, working as a chief manager with Kiran Gems, had been missing since February 25. A missing persons complaint in this regard was registered with Varachha police.

Inspector M Z Patel of Uttar police station, which was first informed about the alleged suicide bid, said, "Dholakia returned to Kim village on NH-48 in Surat on

Property 'not handed over to buyer', 2 arrested on land-grabbing charges: Police

Vadodra: The Vadodra city Detection of Crime Branch (DCB) on Monday arrested two directors of Tree House Education and Accessories Limited, identified as Dipen Shah and Minal alias Minu Ramani — both residents of Mumbai — in an alleged case of land grabbing in the state.

Based on the complaint filed by Ramesh Desai, the DCB registered an FIR against the Mumbai-based firm as well as Meera Education Trust that allegedly runs the school for allegedly "retaining possession of the property" where the school is located in Atliad area of Vadodra.

As per the FIR, despite "finalising a sale deed" with Desai's firm, Zebur Realty, and "handing over management of the school" to the real estate firm for its 18 crore, the accused allegedly "did not hand over possession" of the property. The FIR states the "Intention of Sale" was registered on July 15, 2022 after the accused allegedly showed the complainant a copy of the decision of the board of the company to "discontinue and withdraw the lease agreement with Meera Education Trust," and hand over the land as well as the school management to Zebur Realty.

However, despite the deed being registered on February 28, 2023, the Tree House Education and Accessories Limited and Meera Education Trust, "continued to hold illegal possession of the property," the FIR adds. The accused Rajesh Bhatia, Dipen Shah, Ramani, Gudi Chandrakant Bajpai, Jugul Shah, Divya Padhyar, Nidhi Busa, Navinkumar Bhandare, Giridhar Bhatia, Faizan Qureshi, R Venkat Lakshmi, Minal Patel, and Abhishek Rajesh Bhatia have been booked under the BNS and The Gujarat Land Grabbing (Prohibition) Act. ENS

GIFT City to host Australia-India Sports Excellence Forum meeting

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
AHMEDABAD, MARCH 3

WITH DISCUSSIONS on key to successful Olympics and Paralympics ahead on agenda, the meeting of Australia-India Sports Excellence Forum will be held on March 5 and 6 in GIFT City, Gandhinagar.

The forum is a joint initiative between the Australian and the Gujarat governments.

Other aspects expected to be discussed during the meeting include ways to foster elite sports

The forum will be held on March 5 and 6 in GIFT City, Gandhinagar.

talent, paralympic sports development, sports science and technology, and hosting major events. The two-day forum will bring together leaders from across

India and Australia, as well as Indian and Australian premier sporting institutions, higher education providers and companies invested in advancing the standing of both countries in sport.

With Australia set to host the 2032 Olympic and Paralympic Games in Brisbane, and India's ambition to host the 2036 games, the forum is expected to present an important opportunity to discuss the synergies and wealth of opportunities in Australia-India sports cooperation.

Australian High Commissioner to India, Philip Green, said in a statement, "Australia and India have always shared a passion for sport and so it is only natural that we partner with the government of Gujarat for the Australia-India Sports Excellence Forum."

Gujarat Minister for Sports Harsh Sanghvi said, "India and Australia share a rich history of sporting excellence, and the Australia-India Sports Forum provides an exceptional platform to further strengthen our sporting ties."
