Bill to repeal farm laws among 26 lined up for Winter Session

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, November 23

BESIDES A BILL to repeal the three contentious farm laws, the government has lined up 25 more new bills, including one on facilitation of launch of an official cryptocurrency and prohibition private cryptocurrencies, and another to amend banking laws to facilitate bank privatisation during the winter session of Parliament beginning on November 29.

Last week, Prime Minister Narendra Modi had announced withdrawal of the three reform-oriented, but hugely controversial, laws governing agriculture marketing, in the face of determined and prolonged protests by large sections of farmers.

To this effect, the Centre will introduce the Farm Laws Repeal Bill, 2021, to repeal the Farmers' Produce Trade and Commerce (Promotion and Facilitation) Act, 2020, the Farmers (Empowerment and Protection) Agreement of Price Assurance, Farm Services Act, 2020, and the Essential Commodities (Amendment) Act, 2020.

The Cryptocurrency and Regulation of Official Digital Currency Bill, 2021, is aimed at a facilitative framework for creation of the official digital currency to be issued by the RBI. The Bill also seeks to prohibit all private cryptocurrencies in India. However, it allows for certain exceptions to promote the underlying technology of cryptocurrency and its uses.

To effect amendments in Banking Companies (Acquisition and Transfer of Undertakings) Acts, 1970 and 1980 and incidental amendments to Banking Regulation Act, 1949, in the context of Union Budget announcement 2021 regarding privatisation of two public sector banks, the government will seek the nod of Parliament for the Banking Laws (Amendment) Bill, 2021.

IndusInd Bank, Spandana Sphoorty in a tussle over CEO & CFO appointment

A DAY AFTER Spandana Sphoorty Financial announced the appointment of Shalabh Saxena as the new chief executive officer, IndusInd Bank has clarified that Saxena has not tendered his resignation yet as the managing director (MD) and chief executive officer (CEO) of Bharat Financial Inclusion (BFI). IndusInd Bank also clarified that Ashish Damani, who is serving as executive director and chief financial officer of BFI, has also not resigned. Spandana Sphoorty had issued a release on Monday naming Damani as the president and chief financial officer of the company.

"Neither, Mr. Shalabh Saxena nor Mr. Ashish Damani have tendered their resignation from the services of BFI. As per the terms of their employment, once the resignation is tendered, it is subject to acceptance by the Board of Directors of BFI (Board). Upon acceptance by the Board, a specified notice period is also required to be served. However, as neither of them have tendered their resignations to BFI, such due process has not been initiated," IndusInd Bank said in an exchange filing.

IndusInd Bank said as per contractual terms of employment, both Saxena and Damani are prohibited from accepting employment at a competitor of BFI, such as Spandana Sphoorty, unless approved in writing by the Board of BFI. Thus, any purported acceptance by the duo of employment at Spandana Sphoorty would be in contravention of the terms of their employment. —FE BUREAU

INTERVIEW: KM ABRAHAM, CEO, Kerala Infrastructure Investment Fund Board 'KIIFB has robust governing mechanism, its model sustainable'

The Kerala Infrastructure Investment Fund Board (KIIFB) has been in the news after the CAG's critique of its role as an "off-budget" financing vehicle in the state. The auditor feels KIIFB's liabilities could finally fall on the state budget, potentially drawing the revenue-deficit state into a debt trap. The CAG has expressed this view for the second time in two years, even as the state assembly had rejected the observation when it was first made.

tion has achieved in its objectives. A retired IAS officer who was earlier on the Sebi board, Abraham is also serving as the chief principal secretary of chief minister of Kerala.

KIIFB was established as a body corporate by the Kerala government to channelise funds for critical and large public infrastructure projects. It was the first sovereign entity in India to access overseas debt market when it raised ₹2,150 crore from 'Masala bonds' listed on the London Stock Exchange in May, 2019. KM Abraham, CEO of KIIFB, talks to FE's Rajesh Ravi about the progress the institu-ture, both social and physical. This is because infrastructure helps in the realisation of the latent potential of the state and its people, through its impact on productivity of the financial and human resources. This further has a direct impact on the quality of life of the citizens of the state.

However, most Indian states are locked in a regressive deadlock where large deficits in infrastructure provisioning prevent the realisation of their latent potential, and limited fiscal resources prevent significant investment in infrastructure provisioning. The situation in Kerala was no different. In 2016, government of Kerala set for itself the ambitious target transforming the infrastructural landscape in Kerala. KIIFB was designated as the agency for achieving this ambitious objective, but through a unique and innovative model.

Till date, KIIFB's board has approved ₹64,000 crore worth of physical and social infrastructure projects across a range of sectors including hospitals and health centres, schools and colleges, roads and bridges, water supply and sanitation, electricity and communication networks, industrial parks, and cultural complexes etc. In terms of disbursements, KIIFB has already disbursed ₹14,000 crore towards various projects. Since the onset of the pandemic, KIIFB has cumulatively disbursed more than ₹8,400 crore till August 2021.

What are the important achievements of KIIFB? In its functioning, KIIFB has sought to continuously raise the standards of infrastructure development in the state by adopting best practices followed by major development financing institutions in the world. Currently, KIIFB has the expertise in handling the entire infrastructure life cycle including identification of projects, proposal development, project appraisal, quality assurance, fund mobilisation and project management. I would like to look at our achievements from three broad perspectives, firstly in terms of completion of projects, secondly in terms of organisational evolution and lastly in terms of fund-raising activities.
