Assembly by claiming there was no mention of March 24, 1971 cut-off date in the Accord.

"Himanta Biswa Sarma lied in the Assembly that the Accord did not say anything about 1971. Lying is his habit. What more can we expect when the Prime Minister Narendra Modi lies on everything," Gogoi told reporters here.

Sarma is misleading the people of Assam to deviate the movement against the Citizenship (Amendment) Act, he said.

"Himanta himself had submitted an affidavit in the Supreme Court on July 14, 2015 on fixing 1971 as base year for the NRC update work. It is strange that now he is saying that there is no mention of 1971 in the Accord," Gogoi said. He asked how were the Foreigners' Tribunals conducting trials for suspected illegal immigrants coming to Assam after 24 March, 1971 if there was no mention of the cut-off date in Assam Accord.

On 13 January, Sarma had said in the Assembly that the amended Citizenship Act does not violate the Assam Accord, but is aimed at addressing the "unresolved" issues of the pact.

"The Assam Accord didn't speak about children of those coming before 1971, so it's inconclusive," he had said. "The Assam Accord is not that bad.

If we had read it properly, 1966 would have been the cut off year and 1967 voter list would have been the NRC. I regret that," he claimed citing clauses 5.1 to 5.7 of the pact.

Clarify Chavan's 'coalition' remark: Fadnavis to Sena

PTI

MUMBAI, 20 JANUARY

Former Maharashtra chief minister Devendra Fadnavis on Monday said Shiv Sena should clarify over Congress leader Prithviraj Chavan's statement it had proposed to form a coalition government with Congress and NCP after the 2014 Maharashtra Assembly polls to stop BJP from coming to power in the state.

Fadnavis, now leader of the Opposition in the Assembly, said Chavan's remarks were very surprising and revealed the "true face" of the Uddhav Thackeray-led party, which in November formed the government in the state along with Congress and NCP.

The Congress leader also said that the incident showed the BJP's anti-women mentality and how it controlled and harassed officers during its rule.

However, collector Nidhi Nivedita said today that the politicizing of the incident has saddened her.

She maintained that she had misbehaved and were not ready to listen to the orders of the district administration and police.

She accused that some men in the rally also pulled her hair and kicked her in the waist.

Priya Verma, nonetheless, maintained she would have resorted to slapping the man
