'Shivling': HC allows carbon dating

ASAD REHMAN
LUCKNOW, MAY 12

SETTING ASIDE a lower court order, the Allahabad High Court on Friday ordered a "scientific survey" including carbon dating of a "Shivling" said to have been found at the Gyanvapi mosque complex in Varanasi. On May 16 last year, a court-ordered videographic survey of the Kashi Vishwanath temple-Gyanvapi mosque was completed by a Commission appointed by a local court. During the survey proceedings, a structure—claimed to be a "Shivling" by the Hindu side and a "fountain" by the Muslim side—was found inside the mosque premises. The survey was conducted on orders from Civil Judge (Senior Division), Varanasi, Ravi Kumar Dwivakar, on April 8, 2022. In their plea before HC last year, the Hindu petitioners had challenged the order of Varanasi District Judge, rejecting their petition for a scientific survey.

● COURT ISSUES GUIDELINES ON SETTING UP COMMITTEES

Need to enforce law on sexual harassment: SC

ANANTHAKRISHNAN G.
New Delhi, May 12

STATING THAT "IT is disquieting to note that there are serious lapses in the enforcement" of the Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace (Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal) Act, 2013, popularly known as PoSH Act, almost a decade into its enactment, the Supreme Court Friday issued a slew of directions to ensure its effective implementation.

A bench of Justices A S Bopanna and Himanshu Kohli was deciding an appeal filed by Aureliano Fernandes, a former Head of the Department of Political Science at the Goa University, against the Bombay High Court order upholding his dismissal from service on sexual harassment charges.

Allowing the appeal by Fernandes and sending the matter back to the Complaints Committee, the court flagged the report in a "national daily newspaper" that 16 of the 30 national sports federations don't have an Internal Complaints Committee as stipulated under PoSH.

Incidentally, an investigation by The Indian Express on May 4 had revealed that half of the national sports federations don't have sexual harassment panels as per law.

The Indian Express had found that five federations, including wrestling, don't have an ICC; four don't have the stipulated number of members; another six lacked the mandatory external member and one federation had two panels but none with an independent member.

The court also asked them to regularly conduct orientation programmes, workshops, seminars and awareness programmes to upskill committee members and to educate women employees on the Act

Writing for the bench, Justice Kohli referring to the report (without naming the newspaper) said: "This is indeed a sorry state of affairs and reflects poorly on all the state functionaries, public authorities, private undertakings, organizations and institutions that are duty bound to implement the PoSH Act in letter and spirit."

The court underlined how "being a victim of such a deplorable act not only dents the self-esteem of a woman, it also takes a toll on her emotional, mental and physical health." Many of them are "reluctant to report such misconduct" and even "drop out from their job."

Behind this, the court said, was the "uncertainty" over who to approach under the Act and the "lack of confidence in the process and its outcome." That's why the court said, PoSH won't ensure "dignity and respect" for women in the workplace until "there is strict adherence to the enforcement regime and a proactive approach by all State and non-State actors."

"If the authorities/management/employers cannot assure (women) a safe and secure workplace, they will fail in stepping out of their homes to make a dignified living and exploit their talent and skills to the hilt," said the court.

Therefore, to "fulfil the promise that the PoSH Act holds out to working women all over the country," the court issued some key directions:

It asked the Centre, states and Union Territories "to undertake a time-bound exercise" to verify whether all Ministries, Departments, Government organisations, authorities, Public Sector Undertakings, institutions, bodies, have internal committees "strictly" in terms of PoSH Act. The court said that information regarding the constitution and composition of these committees, e-mail IDs and contact numbers of the designated person(s), the procedure prescribed for submitting an online complaint, the relevant rules, regulations and internal policies are made readily available on the website of the concerned authority. The bench directed that "a similar exercise be undertaken by all statutory bodies of professionals at the apex level and the state level (including those regulating doctors, lawyers, architects, chartered accountants, cost accountants, engineers, bankers and other professionals), by Universities, colleges, educational institutions, and by government and private hospitals/nursing homes."

The court called for "immediate and effective steps" by the authorities to "familiarise" committee members with their "duties and the manner in which an inquiry ought to be conducted." It also asked them to regularly conduct orientation programmes, workshops, seminars and awareness programmes to upskill panel members and to educate women employees and women's groups on the Act.

To that effect, the bench directed the National Legal Services Authority and State Legal Services Authorities to develop modules to conduct workshops of members of complaint committees to sensitise employers, employees and adolescent groups to the provisions of the Act.

It also asked the National Judicial Academy and the State Judicial Academies to include in their annual calendars, orientation programmes, seminars and workshops for capacity-building of members of complaint committees in the High Courts and District Courts.

It directed that the order be forwarded to Secretaries of all central ministries and Chief Secretaries of all states and union territories for compliance.

Cordelia drug case: Wankhede booked by CBI for demanding ₹25-crore bribe

MAHENDER SINGH MANRAL & VIJAY KUMAR YADAV
New Delhi, Mumbai, May 12

THE CBI has registered a corruption case against five persons, including former Narcotics Control Bureau (NCB) officer Sameer Wankhede, for demanding a bribe of ₹25 crore from the owners of Cordelia ship from which actor Shah Rukh Khan's son Aryan Khan was arrested in an alleged drug case in October 2021.

Sources in the CBI said they have registered an FIR and were conducting searches in 29 locations, including Delhi, Mumbai, Ranchi and Kanpur. Wankhede, an IRS officer, was the head of the NCB Mumbai zone during the Cordelia cruise drug bust case. He led a team of officers, including Vishwa Vijay Singh, to raid the ship off the Mumbai coast on the night of October 2, 2021.

In the raid, the NCB claimed to have seized 13 gm of cocaine, 5 gm of mephedrone, 21 gm of marijuanna, 22 pills of MDMA and ₹1.3 lakh cash, following which they arrested 17 people, including Aryan Khan.

Wankhede was later accused of "shoddy investigation" in the case. Aryan Khan was released on bail by the Bombay High Court on October 28. Eventually, another NCB team that investigated the matter did not charge sheet him in the case, citing insufficient evidence. Last week, the NCB terminated the services of its superintendent Vishwa Vijay Singh, who was a member of the team that raided the Cordelia cruise. According to NCB officials, Singh was terminated in connection

Led the NCB raid on Cordelia cruise ship in Oct 2021. In the raid, the NCB claimed to have seized 13 gm of cocaine, 5 gm of mephedrone, 21 gm of marijuanna, 22 pills of MDMA and ₹1.33 lakh cash with another case in which he was placed under suspension in April 2022 and an inquiry was ordered. After taking into consideration the inquiry report findings, Singh was dismissed, officials said.

Singh also led a team of officers to Shah Rukh Khan's residence Mannat in connection with the probe. Later, facing allegations of irregularities in the raid on the ship, including using Panchar (bribees) with prior crime record, a vigilance inquiry was ordered against the NCB's Mumbai team that was completed in November 2022.

Based on the inquiry, departmental action was ordered against seven officers, whose identities were not revealed.

Fertiliser firm MD calls for free pricing of micronutrient urea

HARISH DAMODARAN
New Delhi, May 12

THE GOVERNMENT SHOULD allow urea, di ammonium phosphate (DAP) and other subsidised commodity fertilisers to be freely coated with micronutrients while removing controls from the maximum retail prices (MRP) of these fortified products, said a top executive of a major fertiliser company.

"Our farmers are familiar with urea and DAP applications. We must also recognise the potential of using these commodity fertilisers as carrier products for delivering micronutrients and secondary nutrients to their crops", said Sanjiv Kamgar, managing director, Yara Fertilisers India.

The Indian subsidiary of the $2.45-billion Norwegian crop nutrition company has a 1.2-million tonne urea plant in Uttar Pradesh, which it acquired from Tata Chemicals Ltd in a ₹2,682-crore deal in 2018.

Urea is a controlled fertiliser, with the government fixing its MRP at ₹5,328 per tonne. Even in DAP, which is technically decontrolled, subsidy payments, to cover the higher cost of production or imports by companies, are conditional upon their not charging more than ₹7,000 per tonne from farmers.
