ADX : Sidi Dhaher-1 Well

Dear Shareholders

It has come to the attention of the Company that there has been an unsubstantiated and erroneous report issued recently, containing speculation and speculative analyses about results of the Sidi Dhaher-1 exploration well located onshore Tunisia.

ADX Energy believes that this is definitely not a credible way to report on a Company's drilling results.

ADX Energy has provided regular operational updates regarding this well, and will continue to do so. Premature discussion of well results, particularly related to the presence of hydrocarbons, is inappropriate and irresponsible until all of the data are analysed.

Shareholders can be assured that ADX will continue to release accurate and reliable information as soon as it is reasonably practical to do so.
