APPOINTMENT OF CHRIS MALCOLM AS EXECUTIVE GENERAL MANAGER – OPERATIONS

Evans & Tate Limited (ASX: ETW) is pleased to announce the appointment of Mr Chris Malcolm as the Company's new Executive General Manager – Operations.

Mr Malcolm was previously General Manager Supply Chain Planning and Improvement for Southcorp Wines Limited, Australia's largest premium wine company. In that role, he was responsible for annual wine production in Australia, France and New Zealand of over 21 million cases and sales distribution to approximately 9,000 customers in over 100 countries.

Prior to that, Mr Malcolm had worked in logistics and supply chain management with Southcorp and Mobil Oil. He has an Honours Degree in Engineering (Mechanical) from Adelaide University.

Chief Executive Officer Martin Johnson said he was delighted to welcome an experienced executive with extensive wine industry supply chain management skills to his senior team.

"This is an incredibly important appointment for Evans & Tate," he said.

"Chris' proven track record and experience in wine industry logistics will be of enormous benefit to Evans & Tate as we seek to compete successfully in the premium wine market."

"Chris will work specifically on Evans & Tate's supply chain management and his expertise in this area will be crucial to our plans to bring grape supply and production into line with demand from our customers in Australia and overseas."

"I look forward to receiving his ideas on how we can further improve our core business systems."

Mr Malcolm will report directly to Mr Johnson. His appointment rounds out Evans & Tate's senior executive management team.
