ASX Announcement

Kojensi Gov* achieves endorsed cloud product status by the Federal Digital Transformation Agency

- The Cloud Services Panel (CSP) is the largest cloud services procurement panel for the Australian government, accessible by Commonwealth, State and Territory governments, as well as universities and local councils.
- The CSP enables these institutions and agencies to sole source Kojensi Gov directly from the panel, shortening and simplifying procurement processes
- Inclusion on the CSP is an endorsement of Kojensi Gov by the Digital Transformation Agency (DTA) as being “value for money” for government agencies and institutions
- Represents a key milestone in archTIS’ go-to-market strategy

archTIS Limited (ASX: AR9, archTIS or the Company), the Australian cybersecurity company specialising in protecting sensitive information, is pleased to announce that Kojensi Gov has been added to the Digital Transformation Agency’s (DTA) Cloud Services Panel (CSP) as an endorsed cloud product.

The CSP is the largest cloud procurement panel for government, and facilitates simplified procurement for new and emerging technologies by:

- State and Territory governments
- Commonwealth government
- Universities
- Local councils

Kojensi Gov has passed a detailed assessment by the DTA to be included on this panel. This assessment looks at the proposed service’s compliance, fit-for-purpose for government, price, and security, to offer an endorsement of “value for money” cloud services.

The CSP simplifies and accelerates the procurement process for agencies and institutions by standardising the terms and conditions and providing a pre-determined value-for-money assessment. This allows agencies to avoid traditional lengthy and complex procurement processes.

Kojensi Gov’s addition to this panel provides further validation of the product, launched April this year, and positions the product for uptake throughout all areas of government.

Daniel Lai, Managing Director of archTIS comments: “This panel is an important step in the go-to-market strategy for Kojensi Gov. This opens up an enormous market place for agencies and institutions that need to share information between and within government at the classified level. We expect that inclusion on the panel will support the faster conversion of opportunities in this sector, as government agencies and institutions begin to more quickly adopt cloud services, in line with Australian Government policy.”
