

Battery Age Minerals Receives Maximum Allocation of C$200k under OJEP for 2024-2025

BM8 accepted into Ontario Junior Explorers Program (OJEP) and granted access to additional funding for exploration purposes

Battery Age Minerals Ltd (ASX: BM8; “Battery Age” or “the Company”) is pleased to announce that it has been accepted to participate in the 2024-2025 Ontario Junior Explorers Program (OJEP). The program, supported by the Ontario government, aims to foster early exploration efforts and provide funding opportunities for junior mining companies like Battery Age.

The Ontario Junior Exploration Program (OJEP) is an initiative of the Ontario government that aims to attract investment in early exploration, expand the pipeline of mineral development projects, including critical minerals, and lead to more mines and jobs in Ontario, Canada.

Under the OJEP, eligible expenses incurred up to a capped threshold, between April 1, 2024, and February 28, 2025, directly associated with and essential to the completion of the project, will be eligible for up to $200k CAD. Battery Age is thrilled to have been granted the maximum allocation and the opportunity to leverage this financial support to advance its exploration activities.

“Early exploration projects being undertaken by companies such Battery Age Minerals Ltd. are vital to tapping into the potential of the critical minerals in the north,” said George Pirie, Minister of Mines. “Our government’s investment of $200,000 through Ontario Junior Exploration Program (OJEP) will help create the ideal conditions for a thriving mining industry that will drive economic development and lead to the mines of tomorrow.”

The acceptance into OJEP is a positive step for Battery Age, underscoring its dedication to exploration excellence and the discovery of valuable mineral deposits. The Company expresses its gratitude to the Ontario government and the Ministry of Mines for their support and recognition.
