ASX Announcement – 26 August 2013

Symons Hill Licence Ownership

It has been brought to the Directors' attention that the Company's Symons Hill licence in the Fraser Range in Western Australia has in a number of newspaper articles been referred to as belonging to our vendor.

Boadicea Resources has recently been advised by the Department of Mines & Petroleum that our Symons Hill licence was registered in the name of Boadicea Resources on 25 July 2013.

The Symons Hill licence is adjacent to the licence held by Sirius Resources which contains the Nova/Bollinger nickel/copper discovery. Based upon the regional magnetics the Symons Hill licence contains the same sequence of rocks which host the Nova/Bollinger nickel sulphide deposits (see attached map).
