FRONTIER EXPLORATION HAS NO IMPACT AND IS INTENDED TO HAVE NO IMPACT ON THE KOKODA TRACK

The Company has been informed of a Notice of Motion in the Australian Parliament regarding mining activities around the Kokoda Track.

Frontier Resources Ltd re-iterates its previous public release to the ASX of 27th July 2006 whereby it stated that no previous work by Frontier has impacted on the Kokoda Track and planned future work is not intended to impact on the significant Australian cultural and military heritage value of the Track.

Bob McNeil Chairman noted "Frontier is exploring in Papua New Guinea in the area of the Kodu Deposit under a valid exploration licence (EL 1348). This licence is approximately 540 sq kms in area, approximately 30km long in a north-south direction and has many potential mineralised targets apart from the Kodu Deposit. The approximately 90 kilometre long Kokoda Track passes through the licence roughly in a north-south direction. This area has been held semi-continuously under exploration or prospecting licence by various parties for about 30 years, most recently by BHP and another Australian company and none of this work has impacted on the Track in any shape or form".

Frontier's work is focussed on several porphyry copper/gold systems, none of which cross the Kokoda Track. The Company's exploration is VERY strongly supported by landowners in the area. The Papua New Guinea (PNG) Government is strongly supportive of exploration in the country and Frontier is well aware of the cultural heritage value of the Track. Frontier will work with the PNG Government, landowners and other interested parties to ensure that the significant heritage value of the Track is preserved.
