

MINTAILS TO RE-COMMENCE HARD ROCK OPERATIONS

Mintails Limited (ASX:MLI) (“Mintails” or “the Company”) updates the market regarding the temporary suspension placed on its open cast mining operations by the Department of Mineral Resources (“DMR”) last month.

Mintails has reached agreement with the DMR for a lifting of the orders, for a period of 15 business days, from Monday, 15 February, 2014. This temporary lifting will allow Mintails to re-commence its open cast mining activities while the Company and the DMR work together in an effort to resolve all outstanding issues.

The agreement with the DMR has been endorsed by court order and has resulted in the postponement, but not the withdrawal, of Mintails’ application to the court for a lifting of the suspension notices. Mintails remains committed to resolving the issues raised by the DMR amicably.

The Board will continue to advise Shareholders of any developments in regard to the matters outlined above.
