- In FY25, GemLife released a greater proportion of premium lots with a higher average Home Sale Price. This enabled the Group to outperform its key financial targets in FY25.
- GemLife’s focus on optimising product mix within a development allows the Group to maximise Home Build Margins and cash returns.
- At the end of the period, GemLife settled 312 homes. In addition, a further 38 homes were completed and sold, with settlement expected in FY26.
- Exceeding FY25 forecasts, while carrying forward additional homes into FY26, underpins strong earnings momentum into the next period.
- Further enhancing the FY26 outlook, the Group refinanced its debt facility in February 2026, extending maturity profile and lowering overall cost of debt.

Vertically Integrated Operating Platform

GemLife’s internal building capabilities provide significant advantages across the lifecycle of a development.

Site Acquisitions

Development and Construction

Sales and Marketing

Community Operations

Key advantages of an internalised building entity:

- Project control and speed to market: Internalising multiple construction disciplines – civil, residential, commercial, landscaping – enables concurrent delivery streams. This shortens the timeframes from project commencement to first settlements, reducing peak capital requirements per project.
- Ability to respond to market conditions: the integrated platform, and its wide network of suppliers and subcontractors, allows the Group to ramp up or ramp down supply to meet the market demand in that location.
- Residential building licence benefits: Holding our own building licence allows GemLife to contract directly with buyers and collect progress payments throughout construction. This reduces working capital demands, as home construction costs are typically funded by the buyer (see example to the right).
- Retaining build margins: By internalising the construction function, we retain the margin that would otherwise be paid to a third-party builder, enhancing project returns and generating cash profit on development.

GemLife – Community Operations

GemLife continues to improve operating profit as the number of occupied homes increases.

- The average weekly site rental fee¹ increased by 7.3% on the FY24 average to $206 (ex GST)
- This factors in discounts of up to 30% at some communities while facilities are under construction.
- Commission from resales exceeded expectations ($1.0m in FY25 vs $0.5m in FY24), driven by strong achieved prices for established homes due to increasing demand in the sector.
- Communities in early phase have a lower operating margin.
- Stable rental income, with contracted annual increases in site agreements:
 - New agreements:
 - Greater of 3.5% or CPI (QLD and VIC)
 - Non-fixed review (NSW)
 - Existing agreements:
 - 36% – Greater of 3.5% or CPI (QLD and VIC)

Attractive Demand and Supply Dynamics

An ageing population, rising housing prices and affordability pressures are expected to drive downsizing and increased LLC market penetration, resulting in a projected supply shortfall at current build rates.

Strong demand dynamics

Macroeconomic Driver	Description
Australia's ageing population and increased life expectancy	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The number of Australians aged 50-84 is expected to increase by 39.6%¹ from 2021 to 2041, reaching 11.7¹ million and representing 35.4%¹ of the total population. Average life expectancy is 81.1¹ years for males and 85.1¹ years for females, with the gap between male and female life expectancy narrowing.
Financial pressures on seniors	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Rising cost-of-living pressures and medical expenses are increasing demand for affordable housing options such as LLCs attractive to seniors. Downsizing enables seniors to unlock equity in existing homes, offering greater financial security and flexibility in the event of unexpected costs. As cost pressures on seniors continue to rise, more seniors are expected to downsize, expanding the addressable market for the LLC sector.
Limited availability of affordable housing	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Rising prices have excluded lower income households from home ownership, with housing needs met through private rentals. With upfront payments limited to the home chattel and lower ongoing rent, supported in part by government assistance programs, LLCs are an attractive alternative to traditional rentals. LLCs are well aligned with increased government focus on housing affordability.
Household balance sheet and low leverage	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Australian households have a significant amount of equity held in household assets and superannuation, approximately $20 trillion as at December 2024². A significant portion of this is held in the form of home equity, primarily among the baby boomer cohort (born 1946 to 1964), totalling approximately $11 trillion as at December 2024³.

Forecast supply and demand

Current versus required LLC Home supply (five years to 2029)³
Number of Homes/Sites

Despite supply increases of approximately 500³ Homes year-on-year by current estimates, there still remains a shortfall that could reach approximately 2,600³ units by 2029 should the gap persist and shortfalls accumulate.
