HCD Multi-Flow Selected for Cooper Basin Trial

Hydrocarbon Dynamics Limited (“HCD”) announces that it has been awarded a field trial with a large Australian oil & gas producer in the Cooper Basin. The paid trial will consist of three separate treatments to remediate and inhibit the debilitating effects of paraffin deposition in oil tanks, wells, and flowlines using HCD Multi-Flow®.

The objective of the trial is to mitigate the negative impacts that low winter temperatures have on crude oil processing, including paraffin fouling.

The trial will utilise approximately A$75,000 of HCD Multi-flow product and success will likely lead to expansion of the treatment scope for ongoing operations as well as open up other opportunities in the region.
