Hansen Technologies signs contract with Agway Energy Services in USA

Hansen Technologies Limited (ASX: HSN), is pleased to announce that Agway Energy Services, LLC of New York (a subsidiary of Suburban Propane, L.P.) has selected Hansen's CIS suite for Energy Retailers as its Electricity and Gas billing solution.

Hansen will work directly with Agway Energy Services to implement and deploy the Hansen CIS solution suite in support of Agway Energy Services gas and electricity retail customers in New York and Pennsylvania as well as providing a foundation for expansion into other deregulating markets in North America.

The Hansen CIS suite for Energy Retailers will facilitate for Agway Energy Services an extended range of products and services while delivering more cost-effective customer service, improved productivity, reduced costs and eliminating redundancies across the customer lifecycle.

"The selection of Hansen as the CIS solution provider by Agway Energy Services represents an endorsement of Hansen's activities and extended investment in the North American deregulating energy market. I am excited by this opportunity and the potential for our business to grow with that of our customer. I look forward to expanding our strategic partner relationship over time," said Andrew Hansen, CEO of Hansen.

"Agway Energy Services and Suburban Propane are pleased to have entered into a relationship with Hansen Technologies. Agway Energy Services is an industry leader in the deregulated natural gas and electricity market and we are encouraged by the many opportunities that will be afforded us by working with Hansen's CIS suite of software solutions" said Neil Scanlon, Vice President - Information Services.
