

Overview

On 1 August 2010, Merricks Capital Pty Limited (Merricks) became the Manager of the Merricks Capital Special Opportunity Fund Limited (Fund) (formerly known as Fat Prophets Australia Fund Limited). On 1 October 2010 the Fund announced its new Investment Mandate.

The Fund has a few select investments at any given time and focuses on investments in small to mid-cap Australian listed companies. The types of investments that the Fund targets are:

- Obtaining a strategic stake in a desired small to medium listed company via placement of new securities or acquisition of shares.
- Construction of unlisted convertible securities, offering equity-type returns but with debt security characteristics.
- Combining with other investors to acquire a significant stake in a company with a view to actively agitating for change, which could release hidden value to all shareholders.
- Investments that reward the provision of liquidity.

The Fund's core strength is that it has semi-permanent capital. Merricks seeks to make investments that allows the Fund to maximise the use of its semi-permanent capital, resulting in both capital gains and the payment of regular and consistent dividends.
