Linus Technologies Limited (ASX: LNU) (Linus) is pleased to announce the appointment of Gerard Bongiorno to the Linus Board of Directors, as a Non-Executive Director.

Gerard has been assisting the business for some time and was instrumental in introducing the Kirby Family, who invested in Linus, through a placement in September 2016 and facilitated an important Showcase of the Linus technology with Village Roadshow.

Gerard is Principal and Co-CEO of Sapient Capital Partners, a merchant banking operation and has over 25 years of professional experience in capital raisings and corporate advisory.

Steve McGovern, Chairman of Linus, said:

“We feel that Gerard’s experience will be invaluable as Linus moves into the planned commercialisation phase. He is well connected in both the Capital markets and also with tier one media corporations. Accordingly, we look forward to his continued introduction of new business opportunities both here in Australia and in the US.”

Some of the extensive experience Gerard brings to the Board includes his roles in Challenger Limited (ASX: CGF), a diversified financial services firm, Village Roadshow and KPMG Corporate Finance and his ongoing work as CEO of Sapient, raising capital both in Australia and internationally.

Concurrent with the appointment of Gerard Bongiorno as a Non-Executive Director, Stephen Kerr has resigned from the Board as an Executive Director to concentrate on expanded operational roles as Chief Financial Officer and Company Secretary.

Steve McGovern commented:

“Steve Kerr has been an invaluable Board member through the foundation period of Linus Technologies. The opportunity to appoint a Non-Executive Director now has the dual benefits of improving the balance of the Board from a governance perspective and enabling Steve to extend his operational influence as the Company progresses towards the commercialisation of its technology. Overall we are pleased to have broadened the mix of business and commercial skills.”
