DECEMBER 2010 INSTALMENT RECEIPT CONVERSION PERIOD

Mirvac Group ("Mirvac") [ASX: MGR] announces the commencement of the December 2010 instalment receipt conversion period.

Instalment receipt conversion period

Instalment Receipt ("IR") holders have the option to repay their instalment debt and receive Mirvac securities prior to each quarterly record date. The IR conversion period for the December 2010 quarter will be from 24 November 2010 until 5.00pm (Sydney time) on 22 December 2010.

IR holders who elect to repay their instalment debt during this conversion period will receive fully-paid Mirvac securities and the full distribution for the quarter ending 31 December 2010.

Early repayment applications received during this conversion period will be processed on 31 December 2010 and Mirvac securities will be transferred to IR holders within five business days.

IR holders can choose to repay their instalment debt and receive Mirvac securities by completing an early repayment of instalment debt notice and mailing it with a cheque for the instalment debt amount to be received by Link Market Services within the conversion period. IR holders may convert any proportion of their IRs to Mirvac securities and should not seek to trade their issued Mirvac securities until they receive a holding statement from the registry. The early repayment of instalment debt notice is attached to this announcement and is also available from the investor information section of Mirvac's website at www.mirvac.com, or by calling Mirvac's information line on 1800 356 444 (within Australia) or +61 2 8280 7107 (outside Australia).

The next opportunity for IR holders to convert their IRs to Mirvac securities by early repayment of their instalment debt will be in March 2011.
