Key Risks

Novatti

Risk Factors

You should be aware that an investment in New Shares involves various risks. This section sets out some of the key risks associated with an investment in New Shares. A number of risks and uncertainties, which are both specific to Novatti, and of a more general nature, may adversely affect the operating and financial performance or position of Novatti, which in turn may affect the value of New Shares and the value of an investment in Novatti.

The risks and uncertainties described below are not an exhaustive list of the risks facing Novatti or associated with an investment in Novatti. Additional risks and uncertainties may also become important factors that adversely affect Novatti's operating and financial performance or position.

This document is not financial product advice and has been prepared without taking into account your investment objectives or personal circumstances. Before investing in New Shares, you should consider whether an investment in New Shares is suitable for you. Potential investors should consider publicly available information on Novatti (such as that available on the websites of Novatti and ASX), carefully consider their personal circumstances and consult their stockbroker, solicitor, accountant or other professional adviser before making an investment decision.

Regulatory and licencing risk

The Company operates in a complex regulatory environment and in jurisdictions that have varying degrees of enactment and implementation of regulations.

The financial services sectors in Australia and overseas are subject to stringent and complex regulations, which are constantly evolving to meet challenges associated with new technology. A failure to comply with, or adjust to variations of, regulatory requirements both in Australia and overseas may result in the Company adapting or withdrawing certain products, which may adversely affect the Company and its business units.

The Company's platforms and products are, or will, be offered in many different jurisdictions, many of which are developing nations that may not have a well-developed or enforced regulatory structure in the relevant sectors. Changes to laws and regulations or the way such laws and regulations are interpreted, implemented or enforced may affect the Company's platforms or products in those jurisdictions or the ability of the Company or its partners to conduct business in those jurisdictions.

Growth and inability to integrate new acquisitions

There is a risk that the Company may be unable to manage its future growth successfully. Novatti's growth strategy includes the targeted acquisition of complimentary businesses to integrate into its existing operations. Such acquisitions can create integration risk, pricing risk, reputational risk and a variety of other issues including disaffected clients, directors and employees of the acquired business. Depending on the nature of the acquisition, including the acquisition of the strategic stake of 19.9% in Reckon, acquisitions can also represent illiquid or mid-to-long term investments before a return is realised, if at all.

These issues can potentially have adverse consequences from a strategic, financial and/or operational perspective. The Company will draw on its past experience to mitigate the risks within the control of the Company, such as seeking to retain key acquired staff within the combined business.

Potential future funding issues

Novatti's ability to effectively implement its business strategy over time may also depend in part on its ability to raise additional funds. There can be no assurance that any such equity or debt funding will be available to The Company on favourable terms or at all. If adequate funds are not available on acceptable terms, the Company may not be able to take advantage of opportunities or otherwise respond to competitive pressures.

Failure to be awarded the Restricted ADI Licence

There is a risk that the Australian Prudential Regulation Authority (APRA) will not approve Novatti's Restricted Authorised Deposit-Taking Institution (ADI) Licence Application. Failure to obtain the Restricted ADI Licence will prevent the Company from undertaking banking activities and is likely to have adverse consequences from a strategic, financial and/or operational perspective.

Failure to complete Capital Raise and acquisition of strategic stake

The Company has received binding commitments for the Placement and entered into binding agreements for the acquisition of the strategic stake. However, final completion of the acquisition is subject to completion of the first tranche of the Placement (with a minimum total amount to be raised under the Placement of $40m). If the first tranche of the Placement does not complete and/or the Placement does not raise a minimum of $40m, the acquisition of 19.9% may not proceed and the Company would acquire a smaller holding of approximately 4%.

Key Risks

Novatti

Loss of underlying banking facilities

Due to the nature of the business performed by Novatti, the Company relies upon a number of third party banking facilities and services. If these banking facilities and services are lost, it could negatively impact the Company's ability to perform its financial operations.

Inability to execute on sales targets

There is a risk Novatti does not achieve its sales targets due to inadequate execution of its strategy. Furthermore, if Novatti fails to complete the addition of new functionality to its platforms and to operate its platforms at a standard that will retain clients and attract new clients, then there is a risk that the sales targets will not be achieved. This inability to execute on sales targets could negatively impact upon the Company's reputation, revenues and profitability.

Competition

The Company operates in an industry which is very competitive and subject to rapid and significant change. Competitors may be pursuing the development of products that target the same customers as the Company. The Company's products may compete with existing products already available to customers. The Company may face competition from competitors with substantially greater resources. Competing products may be superior to the Company's products, which would adversely impact the commercial viability of the Company's products.

Dependence upon key personnel

The Company depends on the talent and experience of key personnel to deliver on its business strategy. If key personnel leave, it may be difficult to replace them, or to do so in a timely manner or at a comparable expense. Any key personnel who leave to work for a competitor may adversely impact the Company. Additionally, increases in recruitment, wages and contractor costs may adversely impact upon the financial performance of the Company.

Intellectual property

The Company's business relies on its ability to protect its intellectual property and any improvements to it. The intellectual property may not be capable of being legally protected, may be the subject of unauthorised disclosure, may be unlawfully infringed or the Company may incur substantial costs in protecting its intellectual property rights.

Cybersecurity breaches

The Company, its hosting providers, and networks are required to adhere to their own and customers' security and compliance standards. If adequate safeguards and measures to mitigate breaches are not provided and maintained, it could negatively impact upon the Company's reputation, revenues and profitability. If the Company's security measures are breached, or if its products are subject to cyber-attacks that expose or restrict customer access to the platform or their data, its solutions may be perceived as less secure than competitors and customers may stop using the Novatti platform.

Reliance on access to and confidence in telecommunications and the internet

In some instances, the Company will depend on the ability of the end consumer and its customers to access a deployed solution over telecommunications and internet access and to feel confident processing financial transactions online. A failure in either of these services, which may be beyond the control of the Company, is likely to have adverse financial consequences for the Company.
