FIFA World Cup Clarification

Following the Company's announcement to ASX on 4 October 2012 entitled SmartTrans EventTrack short-listed by Brazilian Ministry of Sport for FIFA World Cup, the Company wishes to clarify that announcement because it appears to have been misinterpreted by some sections of the market.

SmartTrans lodged a proposal with the Ministry of Sport in Brazil to supply EventTrack for the 2014 FIFA World Cup in Brazil and has been included on a list of ninety six companies short-listed to provide various products and services for that event.

SmartTrans has received formal notification from the Government of Brazil that it has been selected to participate in the "Official Program of the Federal Government" for the FIFA 2014 World Cup.

SmartTrans does not know the nature of the products and services that have been proposed by the other ninety five companies on the short-list but has no reason to believe that any of them are in competition with EventTrack. Indeed the Company does not believe that there is any other product comparable to EventTrack being proposed for the FIFA World Cup as EventTrack is unique.
