Citrofresh® Receives ECOCERT Organic Certification for European Union

Citrofresh International Ltd (CTF) is pleased to announce that its Citrofresh® and Croplife products have received Organic approval under ECOCERT certification for the 25 member states of the European Union. This is an additional Organic approval to the National Association for Sustainable Agriculture Australia, (NASAA) certification currently held. ECOCERT SA is an inspection and certification body accredited in France by COFRAC to verify the conformity of Organic products within the rules as determined by the regulation (EC) 2092/91 Annex II. ECOCERT has certified Citrofresh® as an organic sanitizer and organic disinfectant and Croplife as an organic fungicide.

ECOCERT is one of the leading international organic certification bodies, enjoying a good reputation and it is trusted by both consumers and the Organic Industry. The EU has completed a major overhaul of its food safety system and it is introducing further restrictions on the use of potentially harmful chemicals in the agricultural and food industries. CTF views the trend as positive as it further validates its organic status and non-toxic products in the global market.

The aim of organic production is to produce high quality food while recognizing the wider social and ecological impact of production and processing methods. Organic agriculture is about maintaining and increasing the long-term fertility and biological activity of soils and promoting natural biodiversity on farms and surrounds through the use of sustainable production systems. The notion is that healthy soils will produce healthy crops that foster the health of animals and people.

In South Africa, Citrofresh® is approved by the South African Department of Health and South African Bureau of Standards (SABS) as a disinfectant for use in the food industry. SABS have also approved Citrofresh® as a food wash to extend shelf-life and reduce bacterial spoilage.

ECOCERT Organic Certification will be beneficial for CTF's South African distributor for marketing Citrofresh® to agricultural customers that export treated produce to member states of the European Union.
