Passing of SEEK Non-executive Director Emeritus Professor Denise Bradley AC

It is with deep sadness and regret that SEEK acknowledges the passing of Emeritus Professor Denise Bradley AC, Non-executive Director, on Friday 20 March 2020 after an illness.

SEEK's chairman, Graham Goldsmith, said "on behalf of my fellow directors and the SEEK family, I extend my deepest sympathies to Denise's husband, family and friends. Denise was an outstanding director, and we will miss her passion, intellect and wise counsel to us all. She made a significant contribution to the Board and the Company over many years and will be sorely missed."

SEEK's Co-founder and CEO Andrew Bassat commented "Denise will be greatly missed at SEEK. She was a formidable woman – highly intelligent and incredibly decent with a sharp wit. She was a terrific director – challenging strongly, but supportive with a genuine passion for SEEK and its people. As a result she inspired both respect and genuine affection. On a personal level, I am very grateful for the time I had with Denise and for her support and will miss her."

Denise joined the SEEK Board as a Non-executive Director in February 2010, following a distinguished career in higher education and training, and was a member of the Remuneration Committee and Nomination Committee.

Authorised for release by the Chairman of SEEK Limited.
