

SUH trades as SUHDA until completion of CDI changeover on October 17, 2013

Further to the Company's announcement on September 30, 2013, as from today's date, Southern Hemisphere Mining Limited will trade on the ASX with the ticker SUHDA until October 17, 2013.

During this period, the Company's Australian Chess Depositary Interests (CDIs) traded on the ASX will be cancelled and reissued on a 1 for 1 basis for ordinary shares. This changeover reflects that SUH is now an Australian Company.

No action is required from CDI holders. Your CDIs will be reissued as shares and there will be no change in your holding balance.

On completion of this process on October 17, 2013, the Company will revert back to trading with the ticker SUH on the ASX.
