DIRECTORS' REPORT

Summary of operations

The Company currently has one exploration project in Western Australia, being the West Arunta Project (the Project).

West Arunta Project

The Project is located 500km south of Halls Creek in Western Australia, covering an area of approximately 4,000km² across 15 granted exploration licences and six exploration licence applications. The Project is considered prospective for various mineral deposit styles including iron-oxide copper gold (IOCG), sediment-hosted copper, carbonate-associated mineralisation and orogenic-style gold mineralisation.

Geophysical modelling for drilling prospects

Additional geophysical modelling was completed during the half year, to inform drilling planning for the Chilka, Lonar, Maton B, Maton C and Gibson East prospects. Additional modelling of available gravity, magnetic and airborne electromagnetic (AEM) datasets was undertaken to refine the drill testing of the prospects where possible. This work included unconstrained 3D ground gravity and magnetic inversion modelling over the Chilka, Lonar and Gibson East prospects, generating models of density and magnetic susceptibility to assist in interpreting the depth and geometry of gravity and magnetic anomaly source bodies.

DIRECTORS' REPORT

For Maton B and Maton C, AEM conductor plate modelling was completed to better constrain the depth, geometry and conductance of the interpreted source bodies.

A study to more fully examine the generally limited geological information and interpretation for the region also commenced in the half year, to assist with prospect area ranking and generation within the Project.

Initial drilling program

An initial reverse circulation (RC) drilling program at the Project was completed in August. The program comprised 12 drillholes totalling 1,818m to provide a first test of five prospects: Chilka, Lonar, Maton B, Maton C and Gibson East. The program was completed safely, on schedule and within budget.

During the half year, results from composite (4m) assay analysis completed by ALS Perth were announced, with multi-element data used to assist in classifying lithologies and identifying alteration domains.

The Chilka and Lonar prospects have unexplained weakly to moderately conductive AEM anomalies that were not tested by the recent drilling and require further investigation considering the moderately anomalous nickel and copper values.

The AEM anomalies of the Maton B and Maton C prospects did not show local signs of mineralisation, however, it is believed the region maintains the potential for sediment-hosted copper deposits.

The Gibson East prospect gravity and magnetic anomalies are interpreted to have been explained by the drilling. This prospect has now been downgraded.

DIRECTORS' REPORT

Geophysical surveys

During the half year, the Company completed ground-based gravity and passive seismic surveys at the Project covering a 160km² area across four tenements.

Within tenement E80/6027, the ground based gravity survey covered areas adjacent to the Chilka and Lonar prospects where the Company completed a drilling program in August 2025. The gravity survey defined a number of previously unknown gravity high anomalies, the most significant being Lonar East located 1.0km north-east of Lonar.

Within tenement E80/6033, the ground-based gravity survey covered two areas over regional magnetic high features, referred to as the Khya and Vanda prospects. The survey identified new large-scale, gravity high anomalies, generally coincident with existing magnetic anomalies in both Prospect areas.

Passive seismic surveys were undertaken to assist in estimating and mapping the interpreted depth to bedrock over the prospects. Modelling of the passive seismic data indicates the estimated depth to basement varies from 120m to 370m across both prospects. This is shallower than previously interpreted which has positive implications for the ability and cost to further explore and drill test these prospects.

The Khya and Vanda prospects are located 12km apart, adjacent to the Lake Mackay Fault. This major lineament is a prominent crustal-scale structure within the West Arunta basement, terminating the West Arunta terrane. The fault is interpreted to have significant potential as a fluid pathway for mineralisation.

GSWA airborne magnetic and radiometric surveys

The Geological Survey of Western Australia (GSWA) completed detailed airborne magnetic and radiometric geophysical surveys across the broader West Arunta region in the half year. The survey area covers all of Tali's tenure. The datasets and reports are scheduled to be made available at no cost in the June 2026 quarter. The survey was completed on 100m line spacing on north-south line orientation. The survey is expected to significantly improve the quality of the available magnetic data for the Project and provide excellent uniform data coverage for the region.

New project generation

While the Company is primarily focused on exploration activities at its existing project, continued efforts are also allocated to identify and assess modifications to the Company's exploration portfolio.

During the half year, the Company made three new Exploration Licence applications E80/6161, E80/6189 and E80/6198.

DIRECTORS' REPORT

Community & safety

The Project is located within the Kiwirrkurra native title determination area. The Company highly values its relationship with the Kiwirrkurra native title holders and is committed to maintaining a strong relationship with the local community.

The Company is committed to ensuring all work activities are carried out safely with all practical measures taken to remove risks to the health, safety and welfare of workers, contractors, authorised visitors and anyone else who may be affected by the Company's activities. The Company is pleased to report that no recordable injuries were reported during the half year. The Company's past safety performance, along with a strong safety culture, bodes well as activity levels continue to grow, and a commitment to this will be maintained.

Corporate

On 18 July 2025, the Company commenced trading on the Australian Securities Exchange (ASX) following the completion of its Initial Public Offering (IPO). The IPO raised gross proceeds of $7.5 million at an issue price of $0.20 per share.

We are independent of the company in accordance with the auditor independence requirements of the Corporations Act 2001 and the ethical requirements of the Accounting Professional and Ethical Standards Board's APES 110 Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (including Independence Standards) (the Code) that are relevant to our audit of the annual financial report in Australia. We have also fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code.

We confirm that the independence declaration required by the Corporations Act 2001, which has been given to the directors of Tali Resources Ltd, would be in the same terms if given to the directors as at the time of this auditor's review report.

Directors' Responsibility for the Half-Year Financial Report

The directors of Tali Resources Ltd are responsible for the preparation of the half-year financial report that gives a true and fair view in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards and the Corporations Act 2001 and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of the half-year financial report that is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility for the Review of the Half-Year Financial Report

Our responsibility is to express a conclusion on the half-year financial report based on our review. We conducted our review in accordance with Auditing Standard on Review Engagements ASRE 2410 Review of a Financial Report Performed by the Independent Auditor of the Entity, in order to state whether, on the basis of the procedures described, we have become aware of any matter that makes us believe that the half-year financial report is not in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001 including: giving a true and fair view of the consolidated entity's financial position as at 31 December 2025 and its performance for the half-year ended on that date; and complying with Accounting Standard AASB 134 Interim Financial Reporting and the Corporations Regulations 2001.

A review of a half-year financial report consists of making enquiries, primarily of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters, and applying analytical and other review procedures. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards and consequently does not enable us to obtain assurance that we would become aware of all significant matters that might be identified in an audit. Accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion.
