US recognition for Uscom founder

Tuesday 5th January 2010: Uscom (ASX code: UCM) today announced the designation of Rob Phillips as a Fellow of the American Society of Echocardiography (ASE). The ASE is the world leading Institution overseeing standards and practice of Echocardiography, or heart ultrasound. This designation is recognition of extraordinary commitment to the field of Echocardiography particularly in the areas of education, research and clinical practice.

The American Society of Echocardiography (ASE) is a professional organization of physicians, cardiac sonographers, and scientists involved in echocardiography, the use of ultrasound to image the heart and cardiovascular system. The organization was founded in 1975 and is the largest international organization for cardiac imaging.

Rob Phillips, the Chief Executive Officer of Uscom and Director of Clinical Science said "This is a gratifying and humbling honour, substantially as recognition for development of the science at the core of the Uscom device."

For more information on ASE, visit www.asecho.org or ASE's Public Information site, www.SeeMyHeart.org.

About Uscom

Uscom Limited is an Australian medical device company which was first listed on the Australian Stock Exchange in December 2003. Uscom has developed a Non Invasive Cardiac Output Monitor. The USCOM is a simple, cost-effective and non-invasive device that measures heart function, detects irregularities and guides treatment. The USCOM device has major applications in Paediatrics, Emergency Medicine, Intensive Care Units and Anesthesia, and is a tool of choice for management of adult and paediatric sepsis, and for the guidance of all fluid administration. USCOM has global regulatory approval and the technology is currently marketed in North America, South America, Europe, the Middle East, India and Australia by Spacelabs Healthcare, while in China and SE Asia USCOM is distributed by Pacific Medical Systems and in New Zealand it is distributed by MedXus.
