Mobilarm announces A$1.5 million rental agreement

- New financing model to secure long term cash flows
- Validation of new sMRT V100 product

Mobilarm subsidiary Marine Rescue Technologies today announced the signing of a five year rental contract for the supply and service of the new sMRT V100 beacon to the international fleet of CGG, a world leading geoscience organisation.

MRT CEO Ken Gaunt commented: "The award of this contract further validates the technology and the approach we have invested in to secure a leading foothold in the global Man Overboard market."

"CGG conducted a number of sea trials and MRT's sMRT V100 was selected from various competitive products." he added. "We continue to build our rental and service base and are thrilled to have secured such a prestigious and respected customer."

The sMRT V100 is the second of 3 new products to be launched to the global market.

The value of the contract is in excess of AUD$1.5 Million.
