Explanations

1. Reporting must include holdings in other securities (not including bonds), including securities not listed for trade.
2. In the case where reporting regarding the holding of bonds not convertible to shares is required, the holdings status may be attached as a PDF file in the designated field at the end of section B, instead of entering the data in the form.
3. If an interested party holds more than one type of security in the corporation, the holding percentage should be stated (including in full dilution) considering all securities held, in a single line.
4. This form should detail the holding status of all interested parties, including those whose holdings have not changed.
5. If the interested party is a company with essential activity to the corporation, the holdings should be split between shares purchased before the Companies Law 1999 came into effect and after.
6. If the interested party is a corporation, also specify the full names of the final controlling shareholders in the corporation. If none, provide details of the interested parties in it.
7. If a senior officer holds 5% or more of the issued and paid-up share capital or voting rights, his holdings are to be detailed in section A above.
8. If the interested party or senior officer also holds securities in a subsidiary that is material to the company's operations, provide details in the "Remarks" field.
