IPS Securex appointed as Accipiter Radar Technologies Inc.'s authorised trading partner

SINGAPORE, 27 October 2014 – IPS Securex Holdings Limited ("IPS Securex" or the "Company" and together with its subsidiaries, the "Group"), a leading provider of security products and integrated security solutions with an established regional presence in the Asia-Pacific, is pleased to announce that the Group has been appointed as a non-exclusive authorised trading partner of Accipiter Radar Technologies Inc. ("Accipiter Radar").

IPS Securex is authorised by Accipiter Radar to promote and sell Accipiter Radar's range of products and solutions in the following Asian countries, namely, Singapore, Thailand, Brunei, Malaysia, Sri Lanka, Indonesia and Vietnam.

Accipiter Radar's range of products and solutions is used in aviation safety (civil airports and military airfields) for avian activity tracking for Bird Strike Hazard Management[1] and airport runway surveillance; in environmental protection (wind farms and mining tailing ponds[2]) for avian tracking and automated avian deterrent activation; and in homeland security (port security, border protection, coastal and lake surveillance) for the tracking of marine and air activity.

This appointment of the Company by Accipiter Radar is subject to the full terms to be set out in an authorised reseller agreement to be negotiated between the parties.

[1] Refers to a program or process to manage the hazard of a collision between an airborne animal (usually a bird or bat) and a human-made vehicle, especially aircraft, which could potentially cause a number of accidents with human and bird casualties and thereby making it a significant threat to flight safety.

[2] Refers to areas of refused mining tailings or dumps where waterborne refuse material is pumped into a pond to allow the sedimentation of solid particles from the water. The ponded water minimises fine tailings from being transported by wind into populated areas where they could be potentially hazardous and harmful to human health, wildlife and the environment.

Commenting on the appointment, Mr Kelvin Lim (林青宋), Executive Director and Chief Executive Officer of IPS Securex said: "This partnership with Accipiter Radar is an affirmation of our reputation as a leading provider of security products and integrated security solutions in the Asia-Pacific. It is part of our growth strategy to further broaden our range of security products and integrated security solutions in our distribution markets to meet their specific security needs."
