Explanations:

1. If the interested party holds more than one type of security, the holding percentages should be indicated considering all securities held by him only in one row.
2. Holdings of other securities, including those not listed for trading, should also be reported.
3. If the interested party is a subsidiary, the holdings should be split between shares acquired before the Companies Law, 1999 came into effect and those acquired after.
4. If the holder is not a member of an institutional reporting group, only section 3a should be completed. If the holder is a member, both 3a and 3b should be completed.
5. If the interested party is a corporation wholly owned (100%) by a single controlling shareholder, the name of the controlling shareholder should be entered in the "holder name" field, and details of the corporation(s) through which the shares are held should be provided in the notes at the bottom of the form, along with any other relevant details. Conversely, if the interested party is a corporation held by more than one controlling shareholder or by several interested parties, the name of the holding corporation should be entered in the "holder name" field, and details of the controlling shareholders or interested parties holding the holding corporation should be provided in the notes at the bottom of the form.
6. Reporting about a person with a significant means of control in a banking corporation without a control core should be reported in report T121.

- Please indicate whether these are dormant shares or securities convertible into dormant shares.
