Ellomay Capital Reports an Update to the Standard & Poors Maalot Rating

Tel-Aviv, Israel, November 14, 2017 – Ellomay Capital Ltd. (NYSE American; TASE: ELLO) (“Ellomay” or the “Company”) an emerging operator in the renewable energy and energy infrastructure sector, today announced that Standard & Poors Maalot Ltd. (“Maalot”) updated on November 13, 2017 the rating of the Company and of the Company’s Series A and Series B Nonconvertible Debentures traded on the Tel Aviv Stock Exchange from “ilA-” with a “Negative” outlook to “ilBBB+” with a “Stable” outlook.

The rating report (issued in Hebrew) is available at: <http://www.maalot.co.il/Publications/3781/FREll20171113171849.pdf>. In its report, Maalot notes, among other things, that the rating downgrade is based on Maalot’s expectation that the Company will present an FFO to adjusted debt ratio in the range of 9%-12% in the upcoming years, following the 2016 FFO to adjusted debt ratio of approximately 5%, which was due to a decrease in radiation and an increase in expenses. Maalot notes further that it expects an improvement of this ratio in the upcoming years as a result of the return of the photovoltaic radiation levels in Italy and Spain to the historic levels and the introduction of additional projects to the Company’s portfolio. Maalot notes that its projections concerning future FFO to adjusted debt ratio are based on the uncertainty around the spot prices in Italy and Spain, which represent up to approximately 20% of the Company’s revenues from these countries, and the the Talmey Yosef project, which while contributing additional income is also significantly leveraged. Maalot notes in its report that based on its criteria the Company’s liquidity level is appropriate.

Pursuant to the terms of the Company’s Series B Debentures, this rating downgrade triggers an increase of 0.25% in the annual interest rate payable on the principal of these Debentures as will be more fully described in a Form 6-K furnished to the Securities and Exchange Commission on November 14, 2017. The annual interest rate payable on the principal of the Company’s Series A Debentures will remain unchanged.

The foregoing is only a general description of certain issues raised in the rating report and you are urged to read the rating report in its entirety. An unofficial translation to English of the Maalot report will be uploaded to the “Investor Relations” section of the Company’s website.

A security rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities, it may be subject to revision or withdrawal at any time by the assigning rating organization, and each rating should be evaluated independently of any other rating. This press release shall not constitute an offer to sell or the solicitation of an offer to buy any Debentures.

Ran Fridrich, CEO and a board member of Ellomay commented: “Ellomay is in a period of meaningful expansion and investments in new projects. This period is characterized by increased financing that is expected to be followed by an increase in income. Maalot’s rating downgrade was based on assumptions that are not consistent with the expectations of Ellomay’s management, and Ellomay will continue to strive to improve its debt rating based on its operations and projections.”
