Explanations:

1. It is also required to report on holdings of other securities (that are not bonds), including other securities that are not listed for trading.
2. In a case in which reporting is required on holdings in bonds that are not convertible into shares, the holdings schedule may be attached as a PDF file in the designated field at the end of Section B, instead of entering the data in the form, all in accordance with Legal Staff Position No. 104-21: Link.
The PDF file must be prepared in a structure and content corresponding to the Excel file that was published by the Authority and attached to the staff position. The PDF file shall include, at the very least, the information appearing in the Excel file.
3. If the interested party holds more than one type of security in the corporation, the holding rate (including in full dilution) must be indicated taking into account all the securities held by him in a single row only.
4. In this form, the full holdings balance of all interested parties must be detailed, including those whose holdings have not changed.
5. In a case where the interested party is a held company whose operations are material to the corporation’s operations, the holdings must be split into shares purchased prior to the entry into force of the Companies Law, 1999, which confer rights in capital and voting, and shares purchased after its entry into force which are dormant shares.
6. If the interested party is a corporation, the first name of the ultimate single/final controlling shareholder(s) in this corporation shall also be indicated. If there is no controlling shareholder in the interested party – the details of its interested parties shall be provided.
7. If a senior officer holds five percent or more of the issued share capital of the corporation or of the voting power therein, his holdings shall be detailed in the “Interested Parties” holdings table as set out in Section A above.
8. If the interested party or the senior officer also holds securities in a company held by him, if its operations are material to the operations of the corporation, details of these holdings shall be provided in the “Remarks” field appearing within the holder’s details.
