Sapiens Hosts Global Client Conference in Vienna, Empowering Insurers to Lead Market Change

Event brings insurance leaders together to share strategies for growth, agility, and business impact

Rochelle Park, N.J., May 15, 2025 — Sapiens International Corporation, (NASDAQ and TASE: SPNS), a leading global provider of software solutions for the insurance industry, announced today that its annual International Client Conference was held this week from May 12–14, 2025, in Vienna, Austria. The event brought together insurance customers, prospects, and partners from around the world for three days dedicated to business strategy, technology innovation, and peer-to-peer collaboration.

This year's conference, themed Compose Your Future, reflected Sapiens' ongoing commitment to equipping insurers with the tools and insights needed to lead in a fast-changing market. Set against Vienna's cultural richness, the event offered a compelling platform for insurers to explore practical ways to drive operational efficiency, improve customer experiences, and position their businesses for long-term growth.

The agenda included plenary sessions addressing market trends, strategic product roadmaps, and real-world success stories from insurance organizations leveraging SaaS, cloud, and AI-driven initiatives to increase business agility. The event featured an outstanding lineup of industry leaders, including Patrice Amann of Microsoft, Nicolas Michellod and Craig Beattie of Celent, Lorenzo Chan Jr of Pioneer Group, Itay Talgam, internationally acclaimed conductor and leadership expert, and Anders Indset, Norwegian philosopher and deep-tech investor.

Conference attendees had opportunities to engage in deep-dive sessions tailored to Property & Casualty, Reinsurance, and Life & Pensions markets. These sessions focused on actionable strategies for embracing modern core systems, enhancing risk management, and capitalizing on emerging technologies to better serve policyholders and stakeholders alike.

"Our annual client conference is more than a showcase of technology; it's about business outcomes," said Yaffa Cohen-Ifrah, Sapiens CMO and Head of Investor Relations. "We are focused on helping our customers navigate industry shifts, drive measurable improvements, and seize new opportunities. This event is an important forum for sharing ideas and forging partnerships that fuel business success."

Networking was a key element of the conference experience, with formal and informal opportunities to connect, share insights, and build lasting professional relationships. Evening events, including a gala dinner at Vienna's historic Palais Ferstel, provided the perfect setting for collaboration and celebration.

The conference also spotlighted technology partners and sponsors, including Microsoft, FRISS, Swiss Re, K2view, and Cognizant, whose solutions complement and enhance Sapiens' offerings by helping insurers improve data management, accelerate digital transformation, and streamline business processes.
