Dear Sir/Madam,

Re: WILK TECHNOLOGIES

Following an immediate report of the company, published on Friday, April 5, 2024, regarding court decision to approve the company's request to extend the exercise period of warrants (series3) until May 15, 2024, and since the last trading day in the warrants was supposed to take place today, trading in the warrants has been halted.

Following this, the company announced today that there were clerical errors in the aforementioned court decision. The company intends to appeal to court in order to ament the decision.

Trading in the warrants will resume after receiving a revised court decision.

Sincerely,
