EANS-Adhoc: Rosenbauer International AG / Weaker procurement due to low oil Price / Decline in orders influencing development of revenues and earnings in 2016

annual result

Demand for firefighting equipment saw a decline in some Asian countries in the second quarter. Owing to political unrest and the low oil price, there is no indication that this weak demand can be offset by the end of the year. In addition, the political situation in the Gulf States is also resulting in delays in deliveries in the current year.

The resulting weaker development of revenues means that the originally forecasted improvement in earnings in the 2016 financial year cannot be achieved, despite positive effects from the measures to increase efficiency and reduce costs, and earnings are instead expected to be at around the previous year's level.

Thanks to its long-term internationalization, the Rosenbauer Group is well positioned to cope with such variations in demand and economic fluctuations. The successfully launched products, such as the AT municipal vehicle and the new HEROS-titan helmet, and the continued positive development on the fire equipment markets in Europe and the US are helping enable Rosenbauer to continue operating proactively on the market.

The report on the first half of 2016 will be published on August 25, 2016.
