Board of Directors (Appointments and Changes)/Company Information/Reorganization of the management of Rosenbauer International AG
03.05.2017

To take account of the company's continued development and the increasingly complex requirements in international business, the Supervisory Board of Rosenbauer International AG decided at its meeting on May 3, 2017, to reorganize the Executive Board as of May 15, 2017, and expand it with an additional Chief Sales Officer. This position will be filled by Andreas Zeller (45), who has been working at Rosenbauer since 2003. Andreas Zeller was previously responsible for the MENA (Middle East and North Africa) sales region and is the managing director of Rosenbauer Saudi Arabia. After completing his studies at the Technical University of Graz, he worked as a marketing and product manager for poly extinguishing systems at Lenzing Technik GmbH.

The current Chief Technology Officer, Gottfried Brunbauer, will be replaced by Daniel Tomaschko (34), who has been the head of production at the two plants in Leonding since the beginning of 2016. Prior to this, Daniel Tomaschko spent several years working for MAN Truck & Bus Österreich AG, where he was responsible for areas including truck assembly production.
