AIX Trading Update

Eurasia Mining PLC ("Eurasia" or the "Company"), the iridium, osmium, palladium, platinum, rhodium, ruthenium and gold mining company is pleased to announce an update on AIX trading.

The Company has been consulting with its market maker SQIF and several AIX brokers. The consensus advice is to change the trading currency from GBP to USD, as the interest in the secondary market of Eurasia's shares is from the parties that trade in USD.

The Company has also consulted with AIX and the timing of such a transition to USD could occur this week.

Christian Schaffalitzky, the Executive Chairman commented:

"The Directors are grateful to our advisers for the feedback. Our team is busy working on the application to AIX to change the currency to accomplish this task as early as possible this week".
