Kore Potash Plc
("Kore Potash" or "the Company")

Management Change

Kore Potash (AIM: KP2, ASX: KP2, JSE:KP2), the potash development company with 97% ownership of the Kola and DX Potash Projects in the Sintoukola Basin, located in the Republic of Congo, announces the resignation of Mr Brad Sampson, the Company's Chief Executive Officer ("CEO").

Mr Sampson, who joined the Company as CEO in May 2018, has resigned as a Director of the Company with immediate effect, and will continue as CEO until the end of November 2023. He is leaving the Company in order to pursue his other business interests.

The Company does not intend to appoint a new CEO until after the receipt of the financing proposal for the construction of the Kola Potash Project. The Chairman will assume the role of CEO in the interim.

Mr David Hathorn, the Chairman of Kore Potash said:

"The Board and Management team of Kore Potash would like to thank Brad for his leadership and valuable contribution to the Company over the last 5 years. We wish Brad every success in the future."

The process to reach agreement on Engineering, Procurement and Construction contract terms, and to receive a financing proposal for the full construction cost of the Kola Potash Project, is now near completion and is expected to be finalised during the first quarter of 2024 with construction contractors scheduled to be mobilised during the first half of 2024.

This announcement has been approved for release by the Board of Kore Potash.
