Highlights

- Turnover £155,177 (2005: £258,336) and loss after tax of £811,870 (2005: £616,623). Increase in losses largely due to the loss of development contract in year ended 31 May 2005
- Turnover in the second half of the year is ahead of that achieved in the first six months
- Cash at 31 May 2006 approximately £1.75 million, equivalent to 12.4 pence per share
- Outstanding order book at the year end of £147,400
- Intellectual Property Portfolio enhanced through 3 new patent applications
- Initial sales of ceramic brakes made under a 12 month contract with Koenigsegg Automotive
- Additionally working with three, small UK based automotive OEMs who build high performance cars and Weber Sportcars in Switzerland. Considerable interest in the System ST brake system being shown
- Management team strengthened during the year and further non-executives to be appointed to assist in targeting the range of activities undertaken by the Company

Chairman's statement

In the year under review, Dr Kevin Johnson, Managing Director, and his new management team have progressed plans within the Company's operations and my statement is designed to bring shareholders up to date with progress in the year to 31 May 2006 and since the year end. The principal areas the Board has and continues to focus on are:

- strengthening the Intellectual Property portfolio;
- the Company's next generation production process for carbon ceramic brake discs;
- development of a carbon ceramic disc brake for commercial aircraft; and
- commercialisation of the Company's SystemST carbon ceramic brake systems for high performance cars.

Financial review

In the year to 31 May 2006, turnover was £155,177 (2005: £258,336). Despite the fall in turnover for the full year compared with the prior year the sales performance in the second half of the year was better than that achieved in the first six months of the year. The outstanding order bank at the year end was £147,400.

Revenues in this period include development fees from a US aircraft brake system supplier, sales of ceramic rocket components to Roxel and initial sales of ceramic brake discs to Koenigsegg Automotive, the Company's first significant automotive client, and to prospective clients who are testing automotive brake discs.

Losses after tax in the period were £811,870 (2005: £616,623). The increase in losses relates almost entirely to the first half of the year, where the corresponding period in 2004/05 included development income from a contract which was terminated later that year. Furthermore, the losses also reflect the Board's decision to strengthen the management team and invest in the Company's proprietary technology.

Shareholders funds as at 31 May 2006 were £1,997,105 (2005: £2,808,975) which included cash deposits of £1,743,389 (2005: £2,728,052). At the year end cash represented 12.4 pence per share.

Capital expenditure in the year amounted to £129,690 (2005: £63,775).

Operating activities

Science and technology

During the period the Company made three new patent applications which, once approved, are expected to supplement the existing patent portfolio.

The Company is making good progress with the new ST Tech 2 production system which is designed to improve productivity and reduce the costs of manufacturing automotive carbon ceramic brake discs.

Capital expenditure in the current year is expected to be mainly within the CVIST and MIST sub-processes. The majority of the CVIST expenditure planned for the current year falls within the criteria of the £200,000 grant awarded by the Northwest Development Agency.

The Board have decided to temporarily delay expenditure on the MIST process until the Company receives confirmation of a second automotive contract alongside the Koenigsegg agreement. We have conducted preliminary work on the MIST process and at present we are confident that the technology delivers the productivity and cost savings targeted. The new production system is expected to generate a 50 per cent. reduction in the unit cost of disc brakes compared with those currently being produced.

Aircraft brake systems

The Company is currently engaged in brake development programmes with three global aircraft brake suppliers. These development programmes derive low levels of revenue but they are expected to continue for at least the next twelve months. It is difficult to forecast the timing of the eventual acceptance of the first ceramic brake disc for aircraft use, although two of our clients are very keen to continue to evaluate the suitability of our technology as a replacement for the current carbon carbon brakes that are used on most commercial aircraft.

The development contracts are profitable and the Board's view is that it should maintain its position in this market and continue to target increased revenues from aircraft brake development programmes.

Automotive braking systems

In March this year Koenigsegg Automotive of Sweden agreed a supply contract for carbon ceramic brakes for 24 car systems with a value of up to £145,000 over twelve months. The carbon ceramic brakes are being sold as a factory fitted option on the new Koenigsegg CCX, a 860 bhp supercar that was launched this year.

The Company continues to work with three, small UK based automotive OEMs who build high performance cars and it is also working with Weber Sportcars in Switzerland. It is never easy to predict customer uptake on the introduction of a new, high technology product but there is little doubt that there is considerable interest in the System ST brake system.

People

Our success depends on fostering a strong entrepreneurial culture within which our young management team can develop professionally. We have been active in incentivising our staff with share options to ensure their rewards are the same as other shareholders and that the business is managed with an 'owner's eye'. Share options, although granted this year, have been priced at levels higher than the current share prices and we have selected our share price as a key performance indicator for remuneration. I would like to thank all my colleagues for their hard work and dedication over the past year.

Outlook

We have two main challenges ahead of us in the coming year.

The first is that we have to gain at least one other significant automotive brake contract and once this has been achieved it will provide clear evidence of customer acceptance of the Company's brake disc technology for high performance cars. In the aircraft brake market our technology is actively being evaluated by several system suppliers but it will take time before our product is accepted for use on a commercial aircraft.

The second challenge is the completion of our ST Tech 2 production process so that it delivers products at greater efficiency and at lower cost than the current process. The Company is relocating to new facilities approximately 10 miles from the current site and the move should be completed by the end of the year.

The Board currently has two non-executive directors including Professor David Clark who is a founder and has been a director since the Company's incorporation. To support the current range of activities undertaken by the Company and to assist it in targeting its automotive and aerospace markets more effectively, it is the Board's intention to appoint additional non-executive directors and we hope to make such announcements in the current year.

Independent auditors' report to the members of Surface Transforms plc

We have audited the financial statements of Surface Transforms plc for the year ended 31 May 2006 which comprise the Profit and Loss Account, the Balance Sheet, the Cash Flow Statement, the Statement of Total Recognised Gains and Losses, the Reconciliation of Shareholders' Funds and the related notes. These financial statements have been prepared under the accounting policies set out therein. We have also audited the information in the Directors' Remuneration Report that is described as having been audited.

This report is made solely to the company's members, as a body, in accordance with section 235 of the Companies Act 1985. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the company's members those matters we are required to state to them in an auditor's report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the company and the company's members as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.

Respective responsibilities of directors and auditors

The directors' responsibilities for preparing the Annual Report, the Directors' Remuneration Report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and UK Accounting Standards (UK Generally Accepted Accounting Practice) are set out in the statement of directors' responsibilities on page 9.

Our responsibility is to audit the financial statements in accordance with relevant legal and regulatory requirements and International Standards on Auditing (UK and Ireland).

We report to you our opinion as to whether the financial statements give a true and fair view and whether the financial statements and part of the Directors' Remuneration Report to be audited have been properly prepared in accordance with the Companies Act 1985. We also report to you if, in our opinion, the information given in Directors' Report is consistent with the financial statements. We also report to you, if in our opinion, the company has not kept proper accounting records, if we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit, or if information specified by law regarding directors' remuneration and other transactions is not disclosed.

We read the other information contained in the Annual Report and consider whether it is consistent with the audited financial statements. We consider the implications for our report if we become aware of any apparent misstatements or material inconsistencies with the financial statements. Our responsibilities do not extend to any other information.

Basis of audit opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK and Ireland) issued by the Auditing Practices Board. An audit includes examination, on a test basis, of evidence relevant to the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements and the part of the Directors' Remuneration Report to be audited. It also includes an assessment of the significant estimates and judgments made by the directors in the preparation of the financial statements, and of whether the accounting policies are appropriate to the company's circumstances, consistently applied and adequately disclosed.

We planned and performed our audit so as to obtain all the information and explanations which we considered necessary in order to provide us with sufficient evidence to give reasonable assurance that the financial statements and the part of the Directors' Remuneration Report to be audited are free from material misstatement, whether caused by fraud or other irregularity or error. In forming our opinion we also evaluated the overall adequacy of the presentation of information in the financial statements and the part of the Directors' Remuneration Report to be audited.

Notes

(forming part of the financial statements)

1 Accounting policies

The following accounting policies have been applied consistently in dealing with items which are considered material in relation to the financial statements, except as noted below.

In these financial statements FRS 28 "Corresponding amounts" has been adopted for the first time. This has had no material effect as it imposes the same requirements for comparatives as hitherto required by the Companies Act 1985.

Basis of preparation

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with applicable accounting standards and under the historical cost accounting rules.

Intangible fixed assets and amortisation

Expenditure on patents is capitalised and amortised to nil by equal annual instalments over the useful economic life of seven and a half years.

Tangible fixed assets and depreciation

Depreciation is provided to write off the cost less the estimated residual value of tangible fixed assets by equal instalments over their estimated useful economic lives as follows:

|                       |   |                       |
|-----------------------|---|-----------------------|
| Plant and machinery   | - | 12.5% - 20% per annum |
| Fixtures and fittings | - | 25% per annum         |
| Motor vehicles        | - | 25% per annum         |

Foreign currencies

Transactions in foreign currencies are recorded using the rate of exchange ruling at the date of the transaction. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated using the contracted rate or the rate of exchange ruling at the balance sheet date and the gains or losses on translation are included in the profit and loss account.

Leases

Operating lease rentals are charged to the profit and loss account on a straight line basis over the period of the lease.

Government grants

Revenue grants are credited to the profit and loss account, and included within other operating income, so as to match them with expenditure to which they relate.

Capital based government grants are included within accruals and deferred income tax in the balance sheet and credited to the profit and loss account over the estimated useful economic lives of the assets to which they relate.

Post retirement benefits

The company contributes to specific employees' personal pension schemes. The amount charged to the profit and loss account represents the contributions payable to employees personal pension schemes during the accounting year.

Employee share schemes

The cost of awards to employees that take the form of shares or rights to shares are recognised over the period of the employees related performance. Where there are no performance criteria the cost is recognised when the employee becomes unconditionally entitled to shares.

Research and development expenditure

Expenditure on research and development is written off to the profit and loss account in the year in which it is incurred.

Stocks

Stocks are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. In determining the cost of raw materials and consumables the standard purchase price is used. For work in progress, cost is taken as production cost, which includes an appropriate proportion of attributable overheads.

Taxation

The charge for taxation is based on the loss for the year and takes into account taxation deferred because of timing differences between the treatment of certain items for taxation and accounting purposes.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised without discounting in respect of all timing differences between the treatment of certain items for taxation and accounting purposes which have arisen but not reversed by the balance sheet date, except as otherwise required by Financial Reporting Standard 19.

Deferred tax assets are only recognised when it is possible to assess whether there will be suitable taxable profits from which the future reversal of the underlying timing differences can be deducted. Any potential tax reclaim in relation to Research and Development tax credits are recognised when it is probable that such amounts will be received.

Cash

Cash, for the purpose of the cash flow statement, comprises cash in hand and deposits repayable on demand, less overdrafts payable on demand.

Liquid resources

Liquid resources are current asset investments which are disposable without curtailing or disrupting the business and are either readily convertible into known amounts of cash at or close to their carrying values or traded in an active market. Liquid resources comprise term deposits of less than one year.

Turnover

Turnover comprises income derived from research and development agreements and other related services and the supply of carbon fibre structures and carbon fibre reinforced ceramic products. Turnover excludes value added taxes.

Derivatives and other financial instruments

The company's financial instruments comprise cash and liquid resources, and various items, such as trade debtors and trade creditors, that arise directly from its operations. The main purpose of these financial instruments is to raise finance for the company's operations.

The main risks arising from the company's financial instruments are interest rate risk and liquidity risk. The board reviews and agrees policies for managing each of these risks and they are summarised below. These policies have remained unchanged.

Interest rate risk

The company finances its operations through cash. Cash resources are invested to attract the highest rates for periods that do not limit access to these resources.

Liquidity risk

With regard to liquidity, the company's policy has throughout the year been to ensure that the company is able at all times to meet its financial liabilities as and when they fall due.

Factors that may affect future tax charges

The effective tax rate in future years is expected to be below the standard rate of corporation tax in the UK due principally to historical losses which have been carried forward.

|                                                                                     | 2006             | 2005             |

| Tax losses                                                                          | (713,152)        | (570,327)        |

The company has an unrecognised deferred tax asset at 31 May 2006 of £748,070 (2005: £591,838) relating principally to tax losses which the company can offset against future taxable profits from the same trade. An element of historical losses brought forward at 1 June 2005 has been surrendered for tax credit relief to allow the submission of a research and development tax claim. The claim has resulted in the surrender of some historical losses carried forward and a £209,207 reduction in the unrecognised deferred tax asset at 31 May 2005 which was previously disclosed in the 2005 accounts as £591,838.

The deferred tax asset has not been recognised in the accounts because it is not possible to assess whether there will be suitable taxable profits from which the future reversal of the underlying timing differences can be deducted.

22 Loss on ordinary shares

The calculation of basic loss per ordinary share is based on the loss for the financial year divided by the weighted average number of shares in issue during the year.

Losses and number of shares used in the calculations of loss per ordinary share are set out below:

| Basic                             | 2006£  | 2005£  |
|-----------------------------------|------------|------------|
| Loss after tax                    | (811,870)  | (616,623)  |
| Weighted average number of shares | 14,030,748 | 13,805,406 |
| Loss per share                    | (5.79p)    | (4.47p)    |

The calculation of diluted loss per ordinary share is identical to that used for the basic loss per ordinary share. This is because the exercise of options would have the effect of reducing the loss per ordinary share and is therefore not dilutive under the terms of Financial Reporting Standard 14.
